

PRETTY GIRL FIGHTS FOR HER LIFE WITH TWO MEN

HOSPITAL PATIENT KILLS HERSELF WITH GAS

WOUND DEAD IN BATH ROOM OF HER WARD

Was Under Surveillance for Insanity— Authorities Investigating Circumstances of Her Successfully Ejecting Nurses.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—With the supernatural cunning of a delirious person, Mrs. Marie Hessler, 30 years old, eluded the vigilance of her nurses in the St. Joseph Hospital early this morning, and committed suicide in one of the bath rooms of the institution. When found, she was reclining in the bath tub with a piece of gas tubing in her mouth, the other end of which she had fastened to one of the gas jets in the bath room. Life was extinct, and so far as was learned this morning, no one in the hospital knows how long she had been dead. Investigation is being made by the authorities into the circumstances of the case to see if any blame can be attached to the nurses in connection with the matter. Mrs. Hessler lived at 2310 Washington street with her family, and has been in the hospital for several weeks under treatment for typhoid fever. Several times during the progress of her case she had been extremely de-

H. Gill, sub-agent at McDowell, who claims to have shot the Indian in self-defense. Gill has been warned by Indian friends that it is not safe for him to remain on the reservation. He called upon Sheriff Hayden at Phoenix for protection and Hayden with five deputies has gone to the reservation.

FATHER KILLS INFANT SON THROUGH MISTAKE

It would have been better, perhaps, if Edward Demotte, aged eight days, had not indicated to his parents last Friday night that he was in bodily pain. The Demottes reside at 1415 1-2 Thirteenth street. They say they were asleep when the wailing of young Edward aroused them to his desire for something to ease his bodily sufferings. Mrs. Demotte asked her husband to give the baby a spoonful of something from a vial which stood on a table near the side of the bed on which Demotte was reclining. It was nearly midnight and Demotte was very sleepy. His hand was stretched forth to do his wife's bidding, but instead of the spooning vial he grasped a vial containing lye, a deadly poison, and a teaspoonful of this liquid was poured down the throat of the infant. As soon as the child's condition was discovered by his distracted parents, Dr. Carl Umbreit was summoned. The doctor found the baby with its mouth and throat badly burned by the lye. He applied oil, milk and other remedies at hand, but the baby died. The physician signs a certificate giving the cause of death, which document caused the coroner to take a head. An inquest will be held.

Heney, assistant district attorney of San Francisco, arrived in Los Angeles at 10 o'clock this morning on the Owl train and will remain several days in Southern California. Under escort of a committee from the Municipal League, Heney went this afternoon to Ocean Park, and will go to Catalina island tomorrow. Arrangements have been perfected for an address by Heney Friday night before the Municipal League upon the subject of graft developments in San Francisco.

J. D. Rockefeller Still Inaccessible

CLEVELAND, July 1.—United States Marshal Chandler was an early visitor today at Forest Hill, the suburban home of John D. Rockefeller. Chandler, however, did not get farther than the lodge at the entrance of the estate. Patrick Lynch, the lodgekeeper, declared positively that Mr. Rockefeller was not at Forest Hill. A carriage entered the gates about this time and the marshal stopped it long enough to inspect the occupants. Mr. Rockefeller was not in the vehicle, however, and it proceeded up to the Rockefeller residence. Marshal Chandler, upon being questioned as to whether he had a subpoena for Mr. Rockefeller, declined to discuss the subject.

COURT TO DECIDE WHO IS SAN FRANCISCO'S MAYOR

District Attorney to Begin Suit to Settle Whether Gallagher or Schmitz Heads City's Affairs.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—To test the validity of the tenure of the acting Mayor, James L. Gallagher, the district attorney is planning a move that will bring out the merits of the position assumed by Mayor Schmitz.

So far as court is concerned this decision is final and no appeal may be taken.

Judge Seawell said that the department is military in its organization and that a rule making it punishable for one officer to abuse another was not unreasonable, but stated that it was no offense to criticize if no action had been taken upon proper complaints. "The charges," he said, "are indefinite and do not show that Mooney was not justified."

Moreover, the proceedings before the commission are supposed to be judicial in character and the charges must state the particular rule violated.

By an arrangement with Treasurer Bantel an order will be presented to him signed by Gallagher.

He will refuse to pay it on the ground that Gallagher does not lawfully hold office.

Upon his refusal a writ of mandamus will be asked from the Superior Court commanding him to show cause why it should not be paid.

Bantel will resist the writ and thereupon the court will be asked to determine definitely whether Gallagher or Schmitz is the chief executive of the city.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Judge Seawell today over-ruled the demurrer filed in the case of Captain Mooney's writ to restrain the police commission from trying him. This will practically exempt Captain Mooney from a trial by the police commissioners.

Mooney had filed a petition asking the court to prohibit the board of commissioners from trying him on the charges filed against him. The demurrer was offered by the board.

Although the petition still remains to be acted upon, the over-ruling of the demurrer is regarded as a victory for Captain Mooney.

There will be a week's respite for judges, attorneys, and defendants in the graft cases in celebration of the Fourth of July. The various cases called this morning in the several departments of the Superior Court were put over for one week or more without exception.

CASES CONTINUED. In Judge Lawlor's court the cases of F. P. Nicholas, for agreeing to accept a bribe; Peter M. Duffy, for perjury; and Louis Glass, for bribery, were continued until next Monday.

In Judge Dunne's court the cases against Chief of Police Dinan for perjury; Abraham Ruef and Dinan, for conspiracy; and the Parkside defendants, G. H. Umbson, J. E. Green, W. L. Bro-beck and Abraham Ruef, were all postponed until next Monday.

In Judge Seawell's court Chief of Police Dinan appeared to have the case on the charge of misconduct in office set for hearing. He was anxious to secure a long delay, and Attorney Coglian argued for some date in August.

To this Deputy District Attorney Harrison objected. He said he expected little delay in a decision from the Appellate Court on Dinan's appeal for a writ of prohibition which is returnable July 10th. Judge Seawell finally set the hearing for July 22d.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK FELT IN THE EAST

WASHINGTON, July 1.—A special bulletin issued by the Weather Bureau says the seismograph at the Weather Bureau today recorded an earthquake of moderate intensity which resembled in many respects the record of the Kingston earthquake made on January 14, 1907.

The first preliminary tremors began at 8 o'clock 14 minutes and 23 seconds a. m. with a distinct second beginning of the tremors after an interval. A few minutes later several waves of noticeably long period were recorded from 8:22 to 8:25 a. m.

The motion of the ground in the east-west direction began at 8:24:14 and consisted of unusually minute and short period tremors.

PLUMBERS IN SAN JOSE ARE ALL OUT ON STRIKE

SAN JOSE, July 1.—All the plumbers and tin-smiths in this city and throughout the county went on strike this morning. The former are receiving $4.50 a day and they demand $6. The proprietors declare that they cannot pay such wages as it would be bankrupt.

The strike ties up all the plumbing and tinning work in the hundreds of new buildings that are now in course of construction in the city and county and is a serious blow to the local building industry.

ST. LOUIS MEN OUT.

ST. LOUIS, July 1.—Four hundred journeymen plumbers went on strike this morning because the master plumbers refused to accede to a demand for an increase of wages from $5 to $6 a day. Nearly all the concerns in the city employing plumbers are affected.

GOVERNMENT WILL FIGHT TO GET AN INHERITANCE

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 1.—The contest of the will of Charles H. Hooker began today. At the time of his death early this year it was found that Captain Hooker, who possessed an estate worth more than $500,000, had ignored all his relatives and bequeathed his money to the United States government, naming Theodore Roosevelt and his successor in office as executors. Most of the great estate was left

Beaten Until She's Nearly Unconscious

(TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENCE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Led into the deep shadows of a lumber yard at Fourth and Berry streets last night by two men who claimed to be friends of her sweetheart, Miss Annie Wallace, a pretty girl living at Eleventh avenue and K street, was cruelly beaten and maltreated by the strangers.

Struggling for her life and honor with the two men, Miss Wallace received such injuries that for a time she was partially demented and was found wandering about the street by Policeman J. Prendergast. She was taken to the receiving hospital and given treatment.

In the struggle with the two men Miss Wallace was badly hurt about the neck and face; her lip was terribly lacerated and she received numerous bruises about the body.

MEETS STRANGER.

Having an appointment with Walter Goodrich, with whom she has been keeping company, Miss Wallace was on the way to the engagement when she was halted by two well dressed young men who professed a knowledge of Goodrich's whereabouts.

The strangers offered to accompany her to Goodrich, and, as they declared themselves to be friends of his, she made no objection.

When in the vicinity of the lumber yard at Fourth and Berry streets, the two young men seized Miss Wallace by the arms and drew her into the shadows of the yard.

CRIES FOR HELP.

Hands muffled her cries for help. Plucky resistance was made by Miss Wallace to the advances of the men, who enforced their demands with blows.

Probably fearing that the struggle would attract help to the scene caused the two men to desert Miss Wallace, half unconscious she was, and made their escape.

It was while she was making her way as best she could through the deserted streets that Policeman Prendergast found Miss Wallace and had her removed to the hospital.

A partial description of the assailants is in possession of the police and arrests may follow.

MAYOR MOTT SAYS WE WILL HAVE PROSPERITY

Declares That the Next Fiscal Year in Oakland Will Be a Hummer.

By MAYOR FRANK K. MOTT.

I think we are going to have the most prosperous fiscal year in the entire history of our progressive city. The new fiscal year begins today and we are all going to put our shoulder to the wheel and work in harmony.

We have many municipal improvements on hand. We have many more to commence and finish during this fiscal year. We will see the St. Mark's Hotel finished and opened in a short time; we will see the new Oakland Bank of Savings and First National Bank buildings completed within the fiscal year.

We will have a proper assessment and a valuation that will give us some money for improvements.

Perhaps we will have started a new city hall during the next fiscal year. At all events we expect to have called the election and voted bonds for this purpose.

ARE PUT IN EVIDENCE

Pinkerton Agent, Working Under Orders From Chief, Tells How He Tried to Harm W. D. Haywood.

BOISE, IDAHO, JULY 1.—CLARENCE DARROW CONTINUED THE READING OF THE PINKERTON OPERATIVE REPORTS WHEN COURT REASSEMBLED AFTER THE NOON RECESS.

BOISE, Idaho, July 1.—The confidential reports on the miners' strike in Colorado in 1903-04 which were taken from the Pinkerton Detective Agency at Denver by Morris Friedman, were read this morning to the jury that is trying WILLIAM D. HAYWOOD on the charge that he murdered Frank Steenberg. Friedman was recalled to the stand when the trial was resumed and at once identified several more of the documents which he took.

The prosecution interposed no objection to any of the documents and Attorney Clarence Darrow at once began reading them to the jury.

Friedman identified letters written by Detective McFarland but the defense did not offer them in evidence and declined to even permit counsel for the State to see them.

The first of the detective's reports showed that an operative named A. W. Gratias handled the Federation's relief funds at Globeville during the strike and that Gratias cut down the relief in order to create sentiment against Haywood. The succeeding reports dealt with the Federation convention in Denver in May and June, 1904, the actions and sentiments of the miners and the proceedings of the union meeting at Victor before the strike in 1903, the progress of the strike at Cripple Creek.

BOISE, July 1.—At the opening of the Haywood trial witness Friedman identified three letters said to have been written by James McFarland, superintendent of the Pinkertons in the West, and the records of several operatives. Senator Borah for the State asked permission to examine the letters signed by McFarland but was refused. "I have not decided whether to offer these letters officially in evidence," explained Darrow, "and while I do not want to appear disingenuous I must decline for the present."

The prosecution offered no objection to the introduction of the reports of the Pinkertons and many of the letters were read to the jury by Darrow. The object in putting them in was to corroborate the testimony of Friedman given last Saturday to the effect that the Pinkertons played spies in the different localities of the Western Federation of Miners with instructions to report daily.

REPORT READ.
The first report read was from operative No. 42, A. G. Gratias. It was dated Denver, June 29, 1904. Gratias was in charge of distributing relief to the striking miners. In his report No. 42 said some of the men were asking if he thought the strike would be settled soon.

"I told them," he wrote, "that I heard nothing of a settlement or anything that would indicate a settlement; that the strike would last a long time yet; also that I believed the union would have to give up by next fall if we did not win by then."

"Now that the convention is over I will again take personal charge of the relief work and will carry out the instructions I received from Mr. Cary (Pinkerton manager) about a week ago in regard to cutting down the relief as far as possible, so as to cause dissatisfaction and get the men against the union. I will put the blame for not giving the men more relief as much as I can on W. D. Haywood by saying that I am carrying out his instructions."

The next two reports read from operative No. 4 were detailed accounts of the proceedings at the Western Federation of Miners convention which he attended as a delegate. There was nothing out of the ordinary in the proceedings and no speeches of an inflammatory character.

MINERS ORDERLY.

Darrow next read reports from Philander P. Bailey, known as "Operative No. 9." They were dated from Victor, Colo., during the Cripple Creek strike. One of these letters was purely formal, detailing the proceedings of a union meeting. The letters developed nothing against the law and order of the district, as having been mentioned by the speakers or interviews with members of the union.

Following Bailey's reports came those of an operative named Rainer. Rainer declared under date of September 9, 1903, that the miners claimed to have all the best of it, but unless there was a break in the Mine Owners' Association the operative thought their claims were doubtful. Rainer reported that he heard no radical talk or threats from the miners and that each miner acted as a committee of one to stop all disputes and disturbances.

Altaf Miner Declares He Will Meet the Atipodean Should the Latter Defeat Burns.

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN
James J. Jeffries, noblest Roman of them all, champion heavyweight scrapper of the world, altaf miner, sole and landed proprietor of a drink-smithy at Los Angeles and the greatest intellect in Burbank, California is in our midst.

Jeffries is accompanied by C. E. Van Loan, the demon sport writer and society leader of Los Angeles. The pair are encoined at Dick Adams' Gibson House. Jeff will spend the afternoon at the camp of Bill Squires.

The big fellow is far from a fluent talker. He answers questions with all the ease and grace of the sphinx, and poise and warmth of a soda water fountain.

Jeff thawed out sufficiently to assure one and all near and far that the Squires should be ungentlemanly enough to slip Mr. Noah Brusso a slight sleep pellet, that he might get in the game himself.

"Will you fight Squires?" Jeff was asked.

"If he beats Burns, I think such a thing is not beyond the range of possibilities."

"Of course, you understand," continued Jeff, "that I am not fighting for love. They'll have to show me."

"Did any one ever accuse you of fighting for love, Jeff?" asked a bystander.

"No, but I did fight for love once. I fought Munro for love."

When Jeff got this off his system, his face broke into a smile that looked like the big hole in Valencia street after the earthquake had devastated a piece of the earth's countenance in that section.

"Would you fight Burns, in case he beat Squires?" was the next question in order.

Here Jeff made a noise like the sphinx. "No, I hardly think I'd fight him. I don't know. Don't like to cross bridges before I reach creeks."

Jeffries is evidently willing to meet Squires in the event that the Australian looks Burns.

"What kind of a fellow is Squires?" asked Jeff.

On being informed that Squires was a likeable soul, Jeff grew attentive and cocked his star board listener for every word uttered about the new-comer.

"You look pretty good, Jeff," assumed some fan, who eyed the big fellow.

"Feel pretty good, too," responded Jeff.

"How do you keep your punch in condition, Jeff?" was the next question.

"Say, you see, I feed the hens, myself, and I gotta to know how to curve the corn past the roosters so that the hens can sit in the game. That's good practice for the muscle."

Jeff looks as though he is disparting about as much as a Sunday School teacher.

He appears to be in excellent condition, and all the talk of his being in bad shape is a brown and swarthy as a Terrible Turk.

His eye is clear and clean, and his step light and springy for a big man. Jeff is carrying a little excess baggage in the mid-section of his trousers, but he thinks that a little fat, fat, fat, will soon get him in shape.

Back in the old days of Germany they used to have a little instrument of torture called the "iron maiden."

This gentle iron lady was usually introduced to dishearten dissenters, or any "gees" or lady, who did not see fit to obey the prevailing ring rules of the emperors of those days.

When that lady squeezed a miscreant, there was usually a scraping and smashing of ribs.

Well, let me tell you, boy, if I had to choose between a squeeze from that little iron maiden, and a maul from those ham like fists of Jeff, it would be me for the lady.

Jeffries will remain in Oakland until the Fourth of July, when he will cross over to San Francisco to referee a boxing match.

Jeffries requires a fight, after which he will return to his trained chickens in Los Angeles.

Jeff declares that he has a flock of trained hens who hold Browning meetings, and discuss the psychological phases of each fight.

The big fellow weighs a shade less than he did last time he was up this way. In fact he has fallen away to almost a mere ton.

NO CHAPERONE DECLARE GIRLS

Four Western Maidens Have Exciting Experiences Traveling Abroad Unattended.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Four young women whose homes are in the West, returned on the Arable from Liverpool, having toured through Spain and Morocco without a chaperone. They were nearly shipwrecked in the Mediterranean, and saw a ship's captain subdue a mutinous crew. In the party were Miss Ruth Haynes, daughter of J. C. Haynes, Mayor of Minneapolis; Miss Clara C. Smith, Miss Mossbacher and Miss G. W. Lavayea of Los Angeles, Cal. All are members of the same college fraternity.

On the Moroccan port a storm came up and the vessel could not make a landing, so the young women were dropped into the arms of sturdy Moorish sailors, who came, alongside in boats.

"My, wasn't it exciting," said Miss Haynes, "that little boat tossing about, seeming about to capsize. We visited the palace of the Sultan and the queen of the harem gave Miss Smith a gold bracelet. While at the palace we attended a police court trial. The judge sat cross-legged on the steps of the palace. He did not talk, but heard the accusations, then waved his hands and the prisoners were sent to the dungeons. If friends of the prisoners do not give them food they starve to death."

"On our trip back to Spain a storm came up and the superstitious sailors handed the captain and drew their knives. He shook a revolver in their faces and they went forward like scared rats."

Be sure and come to Oakland for the Fourth of July.

PASS REGULAR DEMANDS.
The Police Commissioners this afternoon met and passed demands aggregating about $200 on the police relief and pension fund and on men's relief and pension fund, which amounts represent the quarterly allowances.

Oakland is going to have the greatest Fourth of July celebration in its history.

POLICE RESTRICT FROLICS OF ENTHUSIASTIC PATRIOTS

Large Force of Bluecoats to Patrol Streets to See That Rules of Department Are Obeyed.

While it is not designed to prevent the residents of Oakland and their guests from indulging in all forms of rational enjoyment on Fourth of July, there are restrictions laid down by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners which are intended to safeguard life and limb. These restrictions have been decided upon because of experience in former years when the use of fireworks was taken of the opportunity by persons heedless of the comfort or welfare of others.

On July 4 no confetti shall be thrown on persons, the streets until after 6 p. m. Nobody will be permitted to scrape up confetti and sand from the sidewalks and haul it upon pedestrians.

Feather dusters or like implements with paint on them to daub the faces of the multitude will be prohibited.

Chinese bombs, double-headed fire-crackers, Chinese lanterns, firecrackers more than 12 inches long, toy cannons and all kinds of pistols are tabooed.

During the evening of July 4 a large force of police will be massed in the central business districts to enforce these restrictions on license and to protect the multitude in its enjoyment of the night celebration.

Superintendent of Streets Ott has a force of men employed to stand on the shore of Lake Merritt, where a band is to play Fourth of July day and night. The stand in the lake is also being repaired. Ott is preparing to wire Broadway and Seventh streets from the street from Broadway to Washington, for the parade on the Fourth.

Chief Ball of the Oakland Fire Department today issued the following circular containing warnings and advice to the residents of this city as to precautions which they should take to prevent fires during the Fourth of July season:

To the Citizens of Oakland: In view of the near approach of the Fourth of July, with its attendant conflagration hazard, it is desired to call attention to the following simple precautions.

Keep all skylights and upper windows closed; keep barn doors and windows closed.

See that your home is in good condition and attached to water pipes, keep buckets filled with water and placed around the premises. If you have ladders, have them so placed that you can quickly ascend to the roof.

If you have gratings in the sidewalks over basement openings, or have outside basement doors, remove all rubbish and if possible close them over temporarily to keep out firebrands.

Remove all packing boxes, goods in cases and rubbish from sidewalks, roofs and gutters areas and yards. If any boxes are necessarily left outside, pile them snugly and see that no packing material is exposed.

Special orders have been issued that all members of the Fire Department will be and remain in the engine houses during the 3d and 4th of July.

Ascertain location of key of nearest fire alarm box.

Respectfully,
N. A. BALL, Chief, O. F. D.

WESTERN PACIFIC GETS ITS COUNTY FRANCHISE

Attorney Dudley Kinsell Created a Sensational Incident and He Is Barred a Hearing.

After a short recess in the session of the Board of Supervisors this morning the Board resumed business with Supervisor Kelley in the chair. Chairman Mitchell being occupied temporarily with other business and the amended ordinance granting the Western Pacific Railroad Company a right of way through the county was called.

District Attorney Brown, who was present, stated to the board that the ordinance as amended fully protected the general interests of the county and was in a form acceptable to all so far as the board was concerned.

Chairman Kelley—This board has affected by the ordinance, but that is something which does not concern the board and must be settled between the individuals representing those interests and the corporation.

BOARD DEMANDS APOLOGY.
The clerk was about to read the ordinance as amended, when Attorney Dudley Kinsell stepped forward and said:

"Before you take any action on that ordinance, I desire to file another protest."

Chairman Kelley—"This board has decided that you shall be granted the privilege of addressing it unless you apologize for what you said at a previous meeting."

Kinsell—"I don't think I have said anything requiring an apology."

Kelley—"The board does."

Kinsell—"This is a public body and it is the privilege of any body to address it."

Kelley—"That may be when it is properly addressed. But the board will protect itself against being insulted. You cannot address this board on the question of any protest unless you apologize for the insult given by you to the board at a previous meeting."

REFUSES TO APOLOGIZE
Kinsell, speaking with great deliberation, said: "Well, I have not made any apology, and have not at any time in the past said anything before it which requires an apology. And I will not make an apology for anything that I have said."

Kelley—"That settles it. This board will take a recess for a few minutes."

The board of supervisors has held that Attorney Kinsell has no right to address it as he is said to have made the remark that the board had already made up its mind about a certain liquor license before the license came up for official action.

When Chairman Mitchell resumed control of the board and called the board to order again, he said: "There are two protests here against the passage of the Western Pacific franchise ordinance."

TWO PROTESTS.
Supervisor Horner moved that the protests be denied.

Supervisor Bridge objected to that course lest it might lead to trouble. He thought it might be better to go to the board and let them decide the matter. The chairman concurred, and Supervisor Horner withdrew his motion.

The ordinance having been previously read, the two protests, both from Henry Root were read.

KINSELL OBJECTS AGAIN.
Chairman Mitchell—"Is Mr. Root present? There is no reply. Is there any one here representing Mr. Root?"

Kinsell rising, said: "Yes, I represent Mr. Root as his attorney in this matter."

Chairman Mitchell—"That may be quite true, but the board has decided that it will not allow you to address it for anyone."

Chairman Mitchell—"No one appearing for Mr. Root the protests will be filed."

On motion of Supervisor Horner the final adoption of the ordinance as amended was then passed by the following vote: Ayes—Chairmen Horner, Kelley, Mitchell. Absent—Rowe.

FRUITFUL SCHOOL PROTEST.
No appearance was put in by the Bray district school trustees who had asked the board to intervene in the case to aid them in forcing the railroad company to accept their terms for the right of way through the school house playground. It appeared, however, from a letter in the possession of the board, that the trustees of the school house playground had been offered to take the entire school lot off the hands of the trustees and pay them $11,000 for it—$5,000 in cash and $6,000 in bonds.

Recognizing this fact the railroad company offered to take the entire school lot off the hands of the trustees and pay them $11,000 for it—$5,000 in cash and $6,000 in bonds. The trustees to move the building at their own expense to any new site they chose. But the trustees were unable to agree on a new site. Now that the franchise has been granted by the supervisors the $11,000 offer is all that is left.

RULE OF COUNTY

Time of Delivery and Equalization Extended by the State Board.

The Board of Supervisors took a recess before noon today in order to organize as a County Board of Equalization.

On motion of Supervisor Horner, Supervisor Mitchell was elected chairman.

A communication was then received and filed from T. M. Eby of the State Board of Equalization certifying that the following is a copy of an order made by the said board, and entered upon its minutes.

"It is hereby ordered that the time of the completion of the assessment book or roll of Alameda county, and the delivery thereof to the clerk of the Board of Supervisors of said county, be and the same is, extended from the first Monday in July, 1907, to and including Monday, the 8th day of July, 1907."

"It is further ordered that the time of the Board of Equalization of said county, to equalize the assessment of the property in the county for the year 1907, be and the same is extended to and including Saturday, the 20th day of July, 1907."

"And it is further ordered that the auditor of said county have until Monday, August 19, 1907, to report to the State Board of Equalization, and the Controller, as required by section 8728 of the official Code."

After the reading of the communication the Board of Supervisors as a County Board of Equalization adjourned until next Monday.

Motorist Attempts to Climb Steep Incline to Santa Cruz Mountains.

Pinned beneath an overturned automobile which Frank Billington, foreman of the TRIBUNE stereotyping department and a party of friends were touring the Santa Cruz mountains yesterday afternoon, Billington sustained a compound fracture of the leg just above the ankle.

The injured man was immediately taken to San Jose and placed in a hospital and his wife notified of the accident that had overtaken him.

According to stories told by members of the party, Billington and his friends were endeavoring to climb a rather steep hill with the machine with too little steam on. In doing so the car made but little headway and started to back down the hill, but was stopped in time. The party jumped this time in safety.

Another attempt was made. This time the machine went ahead a considerable distance, then the steam again gave out, the car commencing to back up again. As the party jumped the car turned completely over.

With the exception of Billington the occupants of the car were thrown several feet from the machine but Billington was pinned beneath the machine and his leg fractured.

Billington is one of the most widely known of the best stereotypers in this part of the country, having established a splendid reputation both in this city and elsewhere. Among his associates and friends he is exceedingly popular.

Oakland is going to have the greatest Fourth of July celebration in its history.

POLICE FIRE AT WOMAN BEATER

Officers Give Chase to Man Who Escapes—Woman Vanishes Likewise.

An attack was made by an unidentified man upon a woman late last night in a building at Twelfth and Harrison streets. Special Policemen Schumer and Policeman John Mulholland heard the woman's screams and rushed to her assistance. They found the couple struggling in a room. The man made his escape in the crowd which had gathered below and hid in the new building of the St. Mark Hotel. Six shots were fired by the officers. He returned to the scene of the struggle the woman was gone.

Can't Recover Loss Done by Earthquake

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Another one of the important legal points developed by the late earthquake was settled this morning when Judge Hunt decided that the contractor and property owner were put on a level by the act of God and neither could recover from the other for misappropriation of funds from the quaking earth. The court held that both parties must stand equally before the law and that under construction—the property owner that portion already erected and the contractor the cost of whatever material he had put into the construction of the job.

REDONDO EX-OFFICIAL IS SENT TO FOLSOM

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—W. E. Devore, former street superintendent of Redondo, was today sentenced to five years in Folsom for misappropriation of funds of public funds while in office. After making an alleged attempt at suicide by drinking kerosene while his trial was pending Devore withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered one of guilty, on which he was sentenced.

W. P. TRACKS DOWN

Another letter from Mr. Snook's possession shows that 145 1/2 miles of the main line of the Western Pacific railroad and twelve and a half miles of side-tracks have been completed. "This," the letter adds, "is exclusive of 4000 feet of temporary main line and 5000 feet of yard track."

Contra Costa Supervisors Serve Barbecue to 500 Guests, All Enthusiastic Over Proposed Mountain Road.

Five hundred citizens from Alameda and Contra Costa counties met yesterday in Pine Canyon, Contra Costa county, formally to launch the project of building a boulevard to the summit of Mt. Diablo. Many of those from Berkeley made the trip in automobiles, among them being H. A. Sully and Elton Brown, J. S. Ellis, Charles R. Allen, Francis Ferrer, H. P. Nelson and Robert Annis.

Contra Costa's hospitality was at its best and a barbecue was held under the trees at Pine Canyon. That a road to the picturesque environs of Mt. Diablo is badly needed was proven by the road where the meeting was held. Many of the autoists declared that although they had travelled over some of the worst mountain passes of the State, it was the worst bit of road they had ever experienced.

TO GIVE RIGHT OF WAY.

George McNear Jr., through whose lands the proposed boulevard will run for the greater part of its length, created much enthusiasm by announcing that he would give a 100 foot strip for the right of way. Elton Brown, the county surveyor of Contra Costa, presented a map of the route that had been surveyed for the road and stated that at no point in the boulevard would the grade be greater than six per cent. The road will be sixteen miles in length, and starting at Castle Rock gate will wind its way near the top of the Pine Canyon crest. The estimated cost of the work, exclusive of the right of way, is between $30,000 and $35,000.

BOOSTER MEETING HELD.

At the conclusion of the barbecue, the 500 people who had gathered for the biggest meeting ever held in Pine Canyon, were called together to pass resolutions and listen to addresses.

At 1:45 o'clock Frank Gavan called the assemblage to order and J. H. Trythall, chairman of the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, was elected chairman of the day. J. H.

AUTO AND 3 LEAP TO LAKE "IT'S GOOD TO BE FREE NOW"

Two Likely to Die From Effects of 40-Foot Plunge to the Water.

ORTONVILLE, Minn., July 1.—While going at a high rate of speed yesterday an automobile containing three persons suddenly swerved and went over a sheer embankment of forty feet into Big Stone lake. One of the passengers was probably fatally injured. Those in the automobile were Charles and Walter Hucholz, a prominent merchant of Appleton, and a year-old son of Walter. The wife driving along the lake shore road when at the point where the accident happened runs along the edge of a bluff. At the highest point the machine suddenly got beyond the control of the driver, swerved and went directly over the embankment. The heavy car did not turn over as it fell, but landed in twenty feet of water. Charles was struck by the steering wheel and received internal injuries which may prove fatal. Walter was badly cut and bruised and in serious condition. The boy escaped unhurt.

A gasoline launch was near the scene of the accident and those aboard hastened to rescue the automobilists, who might otherwise have been drowned.

HEIRESS PLANS TO GO ON STAGE

Rich Woman Marries Actor and Writes Plays in Which to Appear.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—Mrs. Maco Greenleaf, formerly Miss Laura Banning, a Los Angeles heiress, is going on the vaudeville stage with her husband, who, with whom she made an engaged couple, is a leading man at the Burbank Theater. Although she has never been on the boards, Mrs. Greenleaf has been evidenced in the fact that with her husband's aid she has written the playlet in which they will appear in a month at Keith and Proctor's circuit, probably in New England, playing back in New York.

It is hardly a year ago since the surprising news of Greenleaf's marriage to Miss Banning was a public scandal. Banning had returned only a short time before with her mother, Mrs. Mary Banning, with whom she made an engaged couple. Fortune has often seemed to act in a perverse mood in the career of Miss Banning and this latest announcement has led to a great deal of comment in society.

The career of Miss Banning has been a romance. Beautiful, cultured, daughter of a good family, ten years ago a debutante, she Southern California. Her suitors were many. John Bradbury was favored, and without consulting their families, the two wed.

For a time they entertained lavishly. Then trouble came. Mrs. Bradbury, a woman with a dash of English captain, Russell Ward. Her mother followed them to San Francisco and induced them to return. Ward started East. His body was found beside the railroad tracks—supposedly that of a suicide.

The Bradburys became reconciled and went to Mexico. Upon their return, however, a divorce followed. The quiet wedding between the beauty and Greenleaf—happily.

"BLIND PIGS" IN ORDER. NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 1.—The recent legislators passed an act allowing Nashville to confine the saloons to the up-town district. The saloon segregation act went into effect today. It puts about one hundred saloons out of business.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Chronic Ulcers are the result of a deeply polluted and foul blood supply. The blood is filled with impurities and germs which are being constantly fed into the place through the circulation, until all the surrounding flesh becomes diseased and the sore an obstinate and permanent trouble. Every symptom of an old ulcer suggests pollution; the discharge, the red, angry looking flesh, the inflammation and discoloration of surrounding parts, all show that the ulcer is prevented from healing by the constant drainage through it of impurities from the blood. This impure condition of the blood may be hereditary, or it may be the remains of some constitutional disease, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system, or the absorption of the refuse of the body which has not been properly expelled through the natural channels. But whatever the cause, the blood is so weakened and polluted that it does not properly nourish and stimulate the place, and the sore cannot heal. Salves, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the sore or ulcer clean, relieve pain, and perhaps reduce inflammation, but can never permanently heal them because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down to the very fountain-head of the trouble, drives out all poisons and germs, builds up the weak, sluggish blood, gives energy and strength to the system, and by sending a fresh, healthy stream of blood to the diseased parts, allows the ulcer to heal naturally and permanently. Nothing reaches inherited taints like S. S. S. It cleanses the circulation of every trace of hereditary disease or impurity, and those who have nursed and treated an old sore for years will experience good results as soon as the system becomes influenced by S. S. S. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free to all who write.

MAIN-HOUR STRIKE TIES UP ALBANY LINE

ALBANY, N. Y., July 1.—A brief strike on the line of the United Traction Company occurred this morning. The employees of the Troy and Albany divisions at meetings today voted to reject the offer made by the company of a flat rate of 24 cents an hour, their demand being 27 1/2 cents. A conference was held between a committee representing the company and a joint committee representing the employees of the two divisions. At the conclusion of the meetings it was voted to strike at once, and for half an hour no cars were operated in either Albany or Troy. Arrangements were made for a conference with the officials of the company, which is now in progress, and the men returned to work. The cars are running as usual.

Colescock, secretary of the Pleasanton Matinee Driving Club, addressed a communication to the board, informing that the club is about to hold a race meeting as one of the meetings of the grand circuit of California. Referred to the committee of the whole.

JAIL TO BE REMODELED. Mr. Kaelich appeared before the board to urge upon it to make changes in the interior walls and roof of the new jail, to enable the introduction of a large sum of money, we herewith respectfully petition your honorable board to grant a reasonable amount to assist in making the event a success and a credit to the county." Referred to the committee of the whole.

What Is Sweeter than a sweet girl graduate of a pineapple sundae at Lehnhardt's? You may take your time to guessing this, but meanwhile I will read you an analysis of honey from a well-known authority on food products. Pure honey contains 18.6 per cent of water, 1.2 per cent of cane sugar and 70.9 per cent of fruit sugar. And they say that honey in the comb has never been imitated. Pretty good stuff if not eaten to excess, isn't it? But you have to be sure that it's pure. Honey made by bees fed on cane sugar is impure. Wouldn't that jar your preserves? There's really but one protection against that and that is in your dealer. Be sure he is pure; then go ahead.

TOKIO DON QUIXOTOS ARE STILL FIGHTING WINDMILLS

Papers There Trying to Make Trouble Between the Nations to Meet Their News Demands.

TOKIO, July 1.—The impression is growing here that the anti-Japanese feeling and demonstrations in San Francisco is the outcome of a deeply laid plan based upon racial hatred, and the recent developments apparently support this impression. The newspapers here, which had special correspondents of American nationality in San Francisco, have ceased to receive news from them. No explanation was offered for the discontinuance of news dispatches, but the impression here is that pressure was brought to bear upon the correspondents in San Francisco not to serve the Japanese papers. The fear is expressed that the danger point will soon be reached. Although war is not dreamed of, the mutual feelings of good will and friendship will be seriously alienated if prompt measures are not taken to allay the general indignation here against the latest discrimination against Japanese in San Francisco, which according to Japanese contention, is a flagrant violation of treaty rights.

Apparently certain measures of retaliation are seriously being contemplated by influential men in political and business circles. Just what action will be taken has not yet developed but a boycott against American goods, it is believed, will certainly be one of the steps taken.

AUTO AND 3 LEAP TO LAKE

Two Likely to Die From Effects of 40-Foot Plunge to the Water.

ORTONVILLE, Minn., July 1.—While going at a high rate of speed yesterday an automobile containing three persons suddenly swerved and went over a sheer embankment of forty feet into Big Stone lake. One of the passengers was probably fatally injured. Those in the automobile were Charles and Walter Bucholz, a prominent merchant of Appleton, and a 3-year-old son of Walter. They were driving along the lake shore road when at the point where the accident happened spun along the edge of a bluff. At the highest point the machine suddenly got beyond the control of the driver, swerved and went directly over the embankment. The heavy car did not turn over as it fell, but landed in twenty feet of water. Charles was struck by the steering wheel and received internal injuries which may prove fatal. Walter was badly cut and bruised and in serious condition. The boy escaped unhurt.

A gasoline launch was near the scene of the accident, and those aboard hastened to rescue the automobilists, who might otherwise have been drowned.

Oakland is going to have the greatest Fourth of July celebration in its history.

AID TO INDIGENTS.
Supervisor Bridge reported expending $150 on account of indigents during the month of June. Supervisor Rowe filed a report of expenditures amounting to $135 during the month for the same purpose.

PLOT BOOKS.
A requisition from the County Assessor for plot-books for the plotting of maps filed during the year was allowed.

A requisition for repairs to the Hall of Records filed by Janitor William Hunter was referred to the Building Committee.

ROAD FOREMAN'S REPORT.
The report of Road Foreman C. H. Miller, Ocean View, was received and filed.

COUNTY INFIRMARY.
Dr. Clark, superintendent of the County Infirmary, reported that there were admitted to the institution during the month of May 104 patients; born during the month, 4; died, 25; discharged, 126; remaining June 1, 313.

COUNTY JAIL.
Sheriff Barnett reported that there were 373 prisoners serving time in the county jail between the dates May 23 and June 24; awaiting trial, 1030. The cost of maintaining the former was $168.25; the latter, $425.75.

RESIGNATION.
The resignation of F. C. Hempstead as drugist at the County Infirmary was received and filed.

ENDORSE PROTEST.
J. H. Robins, grand electoral superintendent, acting for the Good Templars, sent the following communication to the board:

"We desire to endorse the protest of E. Reppert, Mrs. A. Gregor et al. against the application of Hugh Conahan for a saloon on the Redwood road, near a street in Fruitvale, and we respectfully request that your honorable board deny the application for a license to said Hugh Conahan."

WIDTH OF RIGHT OF WAY.
William Smith, a candidate for school trustee in Fruitvale, addressed the following communication to the board, which was referred to the committee of the whole:

"As the W. P. R. R. is about to ask your honorable body for a right of way for their road through the Bray district, Fruitvale, would you be kind enough to mention or ascertain what width they want, as some of the purchases they have made are 31-3 feet, 40 feet and 50 feet. By giving a stated width it will save a great deal of trouble and litigation in time to come."

REDWOOD CREEK BRIDGE.
County Surveyor Hayland presented plans and specifications for the construction of a concrete bridge over the creek in Redwood road or county road No. 809 at the line dividing the lands of Anderson and Boehmer, estimating the cost of the bridge at $1800.

VACATION.
A resolution was unanimously adopted granting a two weeks vacation to all of the employees of the Board of Supervisors with full pay.

DRIVING CLUB ASKS AID.
Dr. L. A. Colesbrook, secretary of the Pleasanton Matinee Driving Club, addressed a communication to the board informing it that the club is about to give a large meeting of one of the meetings of the grand circuit of California. "Owing to the fact," he continued, "that the giving of such a meeting necessarily means the expenditure of a large sum of money, we herewith respectfully petition your honorable board to grant a reasonable amount to assist in making the event a success and a credit to the county." Referred to the committee of the whole.

JAIL TO BE REMODELED.
Mr. Kaellon appeared before the board to urge upon it to make changes in the interior walls and roof of the new jail to enable the introduction at some future period of an automatic ventilator plant such as Architect Miller had recommended and the board had turned down at a previous meeting. The Pacific Construction company, which he represented, would make the changes at actual cost which amounts to $2677.50. The offer was made because it was desired that the building should be built in such a way that it would not be necessary at any future time to tear down sections of the interior and the roof in order to put in an enlarged ventilating plant.

District Attorney Brown said that the changes recommended by Architect Miller involved an expense of over $20,000 and he had advised the board not to consent to any change. He had gone over the proposition submitted by Mr. Kaellon and without any practical knowledge of such matters he had intimated to him as desirable to adopt, particularly inasmuch as the changes would not cost more than $2677.50.

The board adopted a resolution directing the district attorney to draw up an agreement covering these changes, the cost not to exceed the amount stated.

COUNTY INDIGENTS.
A communication was received from Secretary C. A. Whitney of the Associated Charities containing a revision of the complete list of county indigents as sent to the office of the organization. The report was referred to Deputy Trobner.

WESTERN PACIFIC GRAVEL.
A resolution was adopted authorizing the District Attorney to prepare an agreement in accordance with draft No. 1, before the board, in which the Western Pacific Railroad Company agreed to deliver free of cost 2500 cubic yards of gravel at three separate points on the line, namely, at Gashean, Alhambra and the station at the water tank, for county road purposes, and Chairman Mitchell was authorized to sign the agreement.

GIFT TO DRIVING CLUB.
The sum of $250 was allowed the Pleasanton Driving Club to aid it in carrying out its racing plans.

PROTEST DISALLOWED.
The protest to the acceptance of the bid of C. A. James for supplying the county infirmary with coffee and tea was disallowed, the board taking the ground that he was the lowest responsible bidder.

MOUNT DIABLO ROAD.
S. N. Wyckoff, secretary of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, addressed the board on the subject of constructing a wagon road 30 feet wide from Pine Canyon, Ignacio valley, to the summit of Mount Diablo, which, on a grade varying from 8 to six per cent, he represented, can be built for $5,000. He said it would be a great inducement to the tourist hotels being erected in Berkeley and Oakland.

Chairman Mitchell: "What is it you want? Do you want us to contribute county money to it? That we can't lawfully do, you know."

Wyckoff: "No, but I want to get you interested in its success as county representatives and individuals."

Papers There Trying to Make Trouble Between the Nations to Meet Their News Demands.

TOKIO, July 1.—The impression is growing here that the anti-Japanese feeling and demonstrations in San Francisco is the outcome of a deeply laid plan based upon racial hatred, and the recent developments apparently support this impression. The newspapers here, which had expected correspondence of American nationality in San Francisco, have ceased to receive news from them. No explanation was offered for the discontinuance of news dispatches, but the impression here is that pressure was brought to bear upon the correspondents in San Francisco not to serve the Japanese papers.

The fear is expressed that the danger point will soon be reached. Although war is not dreamed of, the mutual feeling of goodwill and friendship will be seriously alienated if prompt measures are not taken to allay the general indignation here against the latest discrimination against Japanese in San Francisco, which according to Japanese contention, is a flagrant violation of treaty rights.

Apparently certain measures of retaliation are seriously being contemplated by influential men in political and business circles. Just what action will be taken has not yet developed but a boycott against American goods, as is believed, will certainly be one of the steps taken.

than a sweet girl graduate or a pineapple sundae at Lehnhardt's? Pure honey contains 19.61 per cent of water, 1.20 per cent of cane sugar and 70.90 per cent of fruit sugar. And they say that honey in the comb has never been limited. Petty good stuff if not eaten to excess; isn't it? But you have to be sure that it's pure. Honey made by bees fed on cane sugar has been limited. Just what your preserves? There's really but one protection nowadays and that is in your dealer. Be sure he is pure; then go ahead.

HEIRESS PLANS TO GO ON STAGE

Rich Woman Marries Actor and Writes Plays in Which to Appear.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—Mrs. Mae Greenleaf, formerly Miss Lucy Banning, a Los Angeles heiress, is going on the vaudeville stage with her husband, who, until their marriage, was a well-known actor at the Burbank Theater. Although she has never been on the boards, Mrs. Greenleaf is taking part in the production of the play "The Girl in the Red Velvet Gown" which will appear in a month in New England, playing back in New York.

It is hardly a year ago since the surprising news of Greenleaf's marriage to a vaudeville actor was made public. She had returned only a short time before with her mother, Mrs. Mary Banning, with whom she made an extended tour of Europe. The fortune has often seemed to act in a perverse mood in the career of Miss Lucy Banning and this latest announcement has led to a great deal of comment in society.

The career of Lucy Banning has been a romance. Bred to cultured laughter, a member of a good family, ten years ago a debutante, she became the pet of the society of Southern California. Her suitors were many. John Bradbury was favored, and without consulting their families, the two wedded lavishly.

For a time they entertained lavishly. Then trouble came. Mrs. Bradbury, sloped with a dashing Englishman, Russell Howard, followed her mother to return. Ward started East. His body was found beside the railroad tracks, supposedly that of a suicide.

The Bradburys became reconciled, and went to Mexico. Upon their return, however, a divorce followed.

Then came the quiet wedding between the beauty and the greatest happiness.

S.S.S. CURES

S.S.S. CHRONIC ULCERS

Chronic Ulcers are the result of a deeply polluted and foul blood supply. The blood is filled with impurities and germs which are being constantly fed into the place through the circulation, until all the surrounding flesh becomes diseased and the sore an obstinate and permanent trouble. Every symptom of an old ulcer suggests pollution; the discharge, the red, angry looking flesh, the inflammation and discoloration of surrounding parts, all show that the ulcer is prevented from healing by the constant drainage through it of impurities from the blood. This impure condition of the blood may be hereditary, or it may be the remains of some constitutional disease, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system, or the absorption of the refuse of the body which has not been properly expelled through the natural channels. But whatever the cause, the blood is so weakened and polluted that it does not properly nourish and stimulate the place, and the sore cannot heal. Salvers, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the sore or ulcer clean, relieve pain, and perhaps reduce inflammation, but can never permanently heal them because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down to the very fountain-head of the trouble, drives out all poisons and germs, builds up the weak, sluggish blood, gives energy and strength to the system, and by sending a fresh, healthy stream of blood to the diseased parts, allows the ulcer to heal naturally and permanently. Nothing reaches inherited taints like S. S. S. It cleanses the circulation of every trace of hereditary disease or impurity, and those who have nursed and treated an old sore for years will experience good results as soon as the system becomes influenced by S. S. S. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free to all who write.

LATEST NEWS FROM ALAMEDA AND BERKELEY

TRUSTEES KEEP PLANS SECRET

Public Not Taken Into Confidence Concerning Plans for the Town Hall.

BERKELEY, July 1.—The board of trustees will not meet this week, having adjourned at the special meeting Wednesday night until the next regular meeting night, Monday, July 8. This leaves three matters of importance in abeyance another week—the municipal wharf, the town hall plans and contract and the new liquor ordinance.

Regarding the municipal wharf, the trustees are certainly doing all possible to get this great and much needed improvement started. Several weeks ago a deed, signed by the proper town officers, together with $2,000, was sent east to Carpenter, who owns tide land approaches to the wharf at the foot of University avenue. This is where the matter stops as nothing has been heard from the deed, and the trustees are waiting.

PLANS ACCEPTED.
Concerning the Town Hall plans, these have been accepted, and changes requested made by the successful architect, Bakewell and Brown of San Francisco. It now rests with the board of trustees formally to accept the changes, advertise for bids and go ahead with the work. Everything has been easy sailing, although the public has not been taken into the confidence of the committee on plans. Dark mystery seems to be the "slog" of the board, and executive sessions are held on the least provocation.

LIQUOR ORDINANCE.
About two weeks ago Town Attorney Staats was instructed to draft an ordinance that will ease up on the liquor proposition and make it possible to sell in original packages, none of the liquor to be drunk on the premises. Staats did not propose to "father" such an ordinance. He called for help and wanted one of the trustees to assist in framing the ordinance. This notwithstanding Staats has an able, intelligent and energetic assistant in James M. Koford. The license committee was appointed "assistant" and will "father" the ordinance.

The fact that there is no meeting of the board this week will give the opponents and those favoring the changes, an opportunity to line up forces, and the promise to be a "battles royale" when the ordinance is presented. It is generally thought that the board of trustees will pass the amended ordinance.

FORCES CONTRACTOR TO LAY SIDEWALK

BERKELEY, July 1.—Last Friday Building Inspector Bull notified A. B. Chase, who is excavating a foundation for building on Shattuck avenue, near Addison street, to erect a sidewalk over the street excavation for the use of pedestrians. Chase was told to have this done by Saturday night, and have a sidewalk at least six feet wide.

Chase ignored this notice and this morning Building Inspector Bull informed Chase that he was doing. He was told by Chase that even in San Francisco nothing more than a three-foot sidewalk was required, yet he asked for a six-foot walk.

"I want you to understand that you are in Berkeley, not San Francisco, and you will follow out my instructions or stop work," responded Bull, who then finally denied it best to comply and will build the walk.

Pedestrians have used the street for weeks and have now been crowded to the electric car tracks.

DOGS NOW HAVE FREE RUN OF ALAMEDA CITY

ALAMEDA, July 1.—The council will hold its regular meeting tonight. There will be a further discussion on the proposed bond election and the city attorney will be instructed to make the necessary preparations for the election. Since this morning the city has been without a dog license ordinance. A resolution having taken effect, an appointment may be made. "Bul" Stanfield is the only applicant at this time.

CAR SERVICE INTO ALAMEDA IMPROVED

ALAMEDA, July 1.—The Oakland Traction Consolidated tonight will start the operation of another early morning car from Oakland to this city. The last car was run on the Fourth and Washington street in Oakland at 1:30 a. m. and will run to High street in this city at 1:30 a. m. One other car left at 1:45 but it ran only to Webster street and was of no account to residents outside of the west end.

KNOCKED DOWN AND TRAMPLED BY HORSE

ALAMEDA, July 1.—Late Saturday night while crossing Park street, at the corner of Lincoln street, J. M. Webb, an aged resident of this city, was struck by a horse pulling a Palace Bakery wagon and was thrown to the ground. The driver of the horse immediately pulled the animal up or Webb would have been trampled. Spectators to the accident rushed to the side of the old man, who was in a dazed condition, and picked him up. He was taken to a nearby hospital where it was found that no bones were broken. His face and hands were badly cut. He was moved to his home, 214 Central avenue in a conveyance. Webb is about 82 years of age.

"China bands, Chinese procession, water carnival, music, racing, and plenty of fireworks" promises the committee in charge of the Fourth of July celebration.

ARMY OFFICER WEDS SINGER

Marriage Displeases Comrades Who May Ostracize Him From Circles.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 1.—Because the Army joined hands with the stage during the past week at Vancouver, Wash., when Lieutenant J. L. Benedict, battalion staff officer of the Fourteenth Infantry, married, it is rumored in Army circles that the officer will be snubbed by his brother officers. His bride is pretty Genevieve Ardell, a vaudeville and concert-hall singer, known all along the coast as the "California Nightingale." Lieutenant Benedict became smitten when he heard her sing at Hager's theater, in Vancouver. She was singing when he entered the playhouse a topical song, and it pleased him. When the turn was over, the natty officer met the charming singer and the romance ripened. The suddenly leapt into the air and came to Portland, and were married on Tuesday.

Now the girl's charming voice is said to have raised a painful discord in the usually harmonious relations at Vancouver barracks. The wedding is said to be considered unfortunate, and it is rumored that the fellow officers of the Lieutenant consider he has made a mistake and will ostracize him.

Benedict has been out of West Point for three years. He comes from a family of wealthy parents at Hastings, Neb. They are said to be much displeased over the marriage. Miss Ardell has been a model for moving pictures for years.

STANDING OF NAVIES.

In number and efficiency of modern battleships and armored cruisers, the backbone of a navy, the order is: Great Britain, United States, Germany, France, Japan, Russia, Italy. In torpedo boat destroyers, also of great value, the order is: Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia, Japan, Italy, United States.

In submarines the order: France, Great Britain, United States, Japan, Russia, the others have few. The United States, Germany and France are bunched very closely, and some authorities might hang the above order on that account. Japan and Germany are building nearly as many warships as Great Britain and will rapidly forge ahead.

HOCHI!

"His hands!" exclaims Mr. Andrew Carnegie, having reference to the Emperor William. "Are guileless of human bloodshed in international war." There is a nice distinction here, and not less important than nice. International war is, of course, war between nations. Niggers in darkest Africa are not a nation. They have no navy. They send no delegates to the peace congress. They are, in fine, small potatoes and not to be trifled with.

So it is true that the emperor's hands are guileless of bloodshed in international war. With a Christian moderation worthy of all praise, he has steadfastly refrained from passing anybody who was in the least likely to paste him back.—Life.

WOMAN WOULD HELP LEPROS

'Wife of Salvation Army Colonel Says She Will Consecrate Life.

It has been announced that Mrs. French, wife of Colonel French, of the Salvation Army, commandant of the Pacific Coast, has offered to go to the leper islands of Molokai for mission work, and has expressed her willingness to consecrate her life to the cause.

Colonel and Mrs. French live at 216 East Twelfth street, and have five children, ranging from 16 years to 9 years of age.

Mrs. French is a motherly little woman with gentle eyes and quiet manner, and disclaims any credit for her statement. When Colonel French went to the islands a short time ago he was for the ostensible purpose of opening Asiatic missions there, and he has done much toward that end. But it is known by those intimate with his plans that he has been trying quietly to see what could be done for the lepers. Should he succeed, arrangements will be made to have a band and full corps of lepers, with officers of their own condition. Later on the same plan will doubtless be effected in the islands of the lepers of the Philippine Islands.

SUSPICIOUS OF CALIFORNIANS

Japanese Consulate is Investigating Case in Which Suit May Result.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—In response to an inquiry the Japanese Consul today informed the Associated Press that no decision has yet been reached as to whether suit shall be brought in the courts to recover in behalf of the Japanese residents of San Francisco who suffered loss in the wrecking on May 23 of a Japanese restaurant and bathhouse located on a street by a mob. The matter was described as being at the present time in statu quo.

It was said by a representative of the Consul that the consulate is not awaiting instructions from Tokyo, but is simply delaying action for further consideration of the incidents of the attack. The Japanese Consul today wrote to the police chief of the city, stating that he is investigating the complaint of local Japanese that their race is being discriminated against by the Board of Police Commissioners in refusing to grant them liquor licenses, junk licenses, intelligence office licenses and licenses of similar municipal privileges.

The reply of the board is that it is acting under an ordinance which forbids the granting of liquor licenses to any race citizens of this country and persons who have declared their intention of becoming citizens, and in accordance with the ordinance named shall not be granted to foreigners until American residents have more fully recovered from the business shock of last year's bombings and fire. The consulate looks with suspicion on this defense, but wishes to be understood as desirous of investigating further before making any definite recommendation to the Tokyo government.

DIVORCED COUPLE GET LICENSE TO REMARRY

After a separation for several years, Earl C. Taylor and Anna H. Taylor, aged 22 and 17 respectively, found it impossible to live apart. Shortly after the final decree had been entered, the couple, about a year later, both of Oakland, this morning obtained their second marriage license. They told Deputy County Clerk Francis, who issued the license, that they were ready to live a new life of bliss with each other. The former and future husband gave Tacoma as his place of residence while his wife comes from Fruitvale.

WHEELER BACK IN BERKELEY

University President Returns From East Two Days Ahead of Time.

BERKELEY, July 1.—President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of the University of California, arrived home Saturday night. The head of the university cut two days from the time allotted him in which to return, and today, while President Wheeler rested from the exertions of what has been a notable journey for him, scarcely a soul in the university town, apart from his immediate assistants and familiars, knew he was encoined in his home on the heights overlooking the campus.

WIRED TO REGENTS.

While in Boston Dr. Wheeler received by wire the resolutions which the university regents adopted at their meeting. The resolutions contained a eulogy of Wheeler, expressed the high esteem in which he is held by the university authorities, praised the work he has done in California and expressed the hope that he would not seriously consider the Boston offer in response to these resolutions. Dr. Wheeler sent a message to the coast saying he had decided to decline the proposal of the Massachusetts men and remain in California.

The government at Washington heard from President Wheeler while he was in the East with reference to the Japanese question. President Roosevelt is believed to have received from Dr. Wheeler the sentiment about the Japanese which Wheeler expressed in an interview in Washington ten days ago.

AGAINST JAPANESE.

President Wheeler declares the Japanese question here to be of much greater importance than appears on the surface, its essence not being confined to the mere question of Japanese pupils in California schools nor kindred troubles. According to President Wheeler it is the essence of the Japanese question:

"It is simply whether the people of the Pacific Coast shall become inoculated with oriental ideas and plans of procedure, or whether they shall remain on a truly occidental basis. Should the people of the Pacific Coast suffer the same fate as Hawaii?" President Wheeler was reported several weeks ago to be the representative of the national civic federation, with authority to organize a branch of the federation at Berkeley. A prominent object of the federation here would be to serve as a conciliation committee and to effect a settlement of industrial conditions. Dr. Wheeler expects to issue a statement bearing on this matter and other important questions which will be discussed during the coming week. He declined to make any statement this morning.

Oakland is going to have the greatest Fourth of July celebration in its history.

GIVES $16 IN CHANGE ON FICTITIOUS CHECK

ALAMEDA, July 1.—A well-dressed man, about twenty-nine years of age, light complexion, five feet eleven inches in height, weight about 160 pounds, is wanted by the police for passing fictitious checks. Saturday afternoon after the banks were closed he made a purchase of a pair of goods at a store on Broadway & Wilkins on Park street and tendered a check for $18 in payment. It was cashed and $18 returned to him.

VARIETIES OF SWEET PEAS

Sweet peas have eighty-six divisions in the United States. In California, where almost all the flower seeds are grown, one farm of 500 acres is given to the production of sweet peas alone. The total production yearly is about 350,000 pounds, and even when this amount is subtracted from the dry goods store of a local merchant, the demand is almost impossible to meet.

Sweet peas are the most popular flower in America, and are sometimes high enough to be prohibitive. The ordinary varieties, well selected, are not more than $5 a pound, but some of the big varieties, rarely colored, sell for $50 a pound.—Los Angeles Times.

LEAVES $10,000 TO WIFE.

The will of the late Julius Jacobs, who died in San Francisco on June 23 last, has been admitted to probate. The late Julius Jacobs was a resident of San Francisco and was a partner in the United States sub-treasury at San Francisco. He was for some time president of the county clerk. Accompanied by a petition for probate of the will, the latter document gives the value of the estate as less than $100,000 worth of personal property, which is entirely bequeathed to his wife, Sara Jacobs. The late Julius Jacobs was a Jew.

LOOK TO HOLD GRAPE FETE

Elaborate Plans Being Made for Three Days' Tokay Carnival.

STOCKTON, July 1.—Lodi, the center of the grape belt, is preparing to give something new and novel in the amusement line next September. It will be known as a Tokay Carnival, that particular variety of grapes being one of the best producing and paying out of the State.

The large park will be the scene of the festival, which will last three days, commencing September 9. Booths will be erected and arbors constructed on an elaborate scale for the convenience of the large crowd that is expected to attend. As the Interurban electric line of the Central California Tractor Company will be completed by August 1, hundreds of Stocktonians will attend the carnival. An elaborate program is being prepared by the committee, which consists of many of the prominent business men of the city. A display of all kinds of grapes and fruits produced in the Lodi section will be arranged.

Be sure and come to Oakland for the Fourth of July.

FEAR DAMAGING FIRES ON THE FOURTH

BERKELEY, July 1.—Following is a letter received by Chief Vollmer from Secretary S. N. Wyckoff of the Manufacturers' Association relative to use of fireworks:

"The manufacturers of Berkeley and especially those whose factories are located in the western part of town, are fearful that fires may result from the careless use of fireworks. They requested me to call your especial attention to this matter and request that you do all in your power to restrict the use of fireworks of all kinds, or if possible to prohibit their use altogether in the factory districts. Thank you in advance for them for any action you can do along that line."

SAYS CHURCHES TOO NUMEROUS

Dr. Felix Adler Speaks on Unity of Life at the Unitarian Church.

Dr. Felix Adler, philosopher, sociologist and preacher of New York, in addressing a large congregation in the Unitarian Church of Oakland yesterday morning, spoke upon the forward movement in religion, indicating the manner in which spiritual unity may be attained without the absolute loss of individual liberty.

"There is a unity in life," said Dr. Adler, "there is unity in corporations, there is unity even among the scientists in their search for truth. A common thread is running through all these things, and there is a growing tendency of men to separate as regards their religious beliefs. The reformation was the inception of this backward trend. The widening of the scope of the individual in relation to religion. There are too many sects today. The great problem is how to create spiritual unity. In former times men were united spiritually by the dogmas of their respective religions. These dogmas were law, and their acceptance was a part of the faith. The reformation subjected dogmas to judgment from that changed condition of the human mind. It was the great and of religious life is, or should be, the passionate desire to achieve the highest spiritual unity, to live right and peace with one's self, proper relations between husband and wife, love and regard for one's children, to live right and peace with one's neighbor, to conduct honestly the duties of the commonwealth and State.

CREED AND INDIVIDUAL.

"In the olden times the creed was the law, and the individual had to shape his life to meet the requirements of the creed. Today the creed is cut to fit the life of the individual. The new fellowship, the bond of which unites all men, is the love of the individual. The evidence of the weakness of creed is that men do not live up to it. No theory is held to be a college professor or today. He is not committed to any set policy or rule. He seeks the truth. Righteousness is the end, the creed is merely a means to that end.

"By a practical illustration of righteousness I mean the right-minded man, the man who is not concerned with the development of the species within himself. The ethical man is governed by a three-fold reverence for the individual, for the community, and for the world. It is necessary that we should all look up to some one in order that we may correctly judge ourselves.

SHOULD HAVE IDEALS.

"As a student of philosophy and religion, I admire and revere Aristotle. Aristotle was a student of Plato. Plato was a student of Socrates. Socrates was a student of the great and of religious life is, or should be, the passionate desire to achieve the highest spiritual unity, to live right and peace with one's self, proper relations between husband and wife, love and regard for one's children, to live right and peace with one's neighbor, to conduct honestly the duties of the commonwealth and State.

FORCE FLAG OF SWEDEN DOWN

Patriotic When Foreign Emblem Flies.

BERKELEY, July 1.—Strenuous complaints by the neighbors of the Brown family, living at Roosevelt street and Bancroft Way, as to the propriety of their action in flying the Swedish flag from a pole over their domicile, led to the lowering of the emblem yesterday morning, after the patriots had summoned the police and given vent to their ardor by gathering on the sidewalk and hinting at more vigorous measures.

Mrs. R. Marsh, of 2329 Roosevelt street, was the chief complainant, and though, when Policeman McCabe arrived, he advised the indignant Americans that there was no cause for offense, the flag of Sweden having full rights to display as long as no insult was implied to the Stars and Stripes, the "Roosevelts" neighbors (as they murmured, claiming that Old Glory should fly above the foreign emblem. Brown, however, diplomatically settled the matter by lowering his Swedish flag and carrying it indoors, and his Roosevelt street neighbors were mollified.

Oakland's Coming Celebration.

The national anniversary will be celebrated in Oakland this year on a grander scale than ever before. It will not only be a display of patriotism and public enterprise, but an evidence of growth and prosperity as well. It will be a proof of the liberality of our citizens and their talent for organizing large popular festivals. On the whole, the celebration on the Fourth will be impressive as a patriotic tribute, and highly diverting as a varied entertainment.

Aside from the inevitable parade, speeches, singing and reading the immortal Declaration of Independence. Many amusements will be provided, both for day and night. There will be a great variety of free-for-all races at the Oakland track in the afternoon, admission free. In the evening there will be "A Night in Venice" on Lake Merritt that will present a beautiful and animated picture. There will also be the finest display of fireworks ever seen in this city, eclipsing the splendid pyrotechnic exhibition of last year. In addition there will be special matinee performances at all the theaters, and a band to enliven the gayeties at Idora Park. In short, there will not be a dull minute either in the day or night, and the streets should be filled with such a throng as was never witnessed in Oakland before.

All this will be extremely interesting and entertaining, very gratifying and encouraging. It will be a magnificent advertisement of the city, besides being a profitable business enterprise for our tradesmen, caterers and publicans. It will draw hither many from the interior and across the bay, and give us an opportunity to show off in our best bib and tucker before company. But for all that, the significance of the great occasion must not be ignored. We must not lose sight of the real meaning of the celebration, the event it commemorates or the principle it symbolizes. All the pageantry of gorgeous street parades, the picturesque and brilliant marine illumination at night, and the dazzling display of fireworks exploding against the background of the sky will be a vain show if we lose sight of the lofty ideals of government, humanity and citizenship which created this mighty nation and baptized its infancy in fire, blood and privation.

Our starry flag may stretch its folds from the West to the East Indies in mockery, for all our pride of wealth and vast domain, if it cease to symbolize the liberty of man, freedom of conscience and the virtue of a patriotic people. Unless the flag wave over a nation of freemen devoted to the laws of the land and the institutions of the fathers it will become a flaunting lie, the oriflamme of departed glory. The spirit of Valley Forge, Saratoga, Monmouth and King's Mountain must survive and dominate the civic activities of the American people if the Republic is not to decay from mere excess of material prosperity. We must not love the land because it is opulent, but because it is the home of liberty, because it is dedicated to the principle that government is solely a device of a people to maintain order and secure the largest measure of happiness and prosperity to the greatest number. We are in the midst of fat prosperity. Let us not imitate the citizens of Rome, who boasted they were greater than kings when they were selling the imperial purple and making merchandise of their suffrages, when justice was a matter of intrigue and barter, and social depravity went hand in hand with political corruption.

Let us recall the lessons and trials of the past while enjoying the elaborate festivities on the Fourth. It is good to remember what it cost our forefathers to establish this Republic; what trials and privations they endured in planting Christian civilization on these shores, what perils and hardships they encountered in conquering the wilderness and subduing the savage, what sacrifices they made in planting the tree of liberty. The splendors of Oakland's coming celebration should inspire in all who witness them a desire to make this country better, freer and greater than ever before, make it more than ever the temple of liberty, enlightenment and patriotic virtue.

The fires of patriotism can be lighted without burning the town down.

The New York Sun advises the Democracy to return to the old-fashioned ideas of Tilden and Cleveland, to sanity and success. In the days of Cleveland, sanity, success and free soup houses, the New York Sun was advising the Democrats to turn from Grover as a stuffed prophet.

Contracts let by the larger railroad systems during the last few days, for $25,000,000 worth of new freight and refrigerator cars, indicate plainly the enormous growth of the transportation business and the general prosperity of the country. Of the 26,600 new cars embraced in these contracts, most of them must be delivered before the close of this year.

Bankhead Frustrates Political Treachery.

Governor Comer's efforts to induce the Democratic members of the Alabama Legislature to violate the instructions of the primary in regard to the Senatorial succession is an example of how ready politicians are to defy popular opinion when their interests or personal feelings run the other way. At the Democratic primary which nominated Comer for Governor John H. Bankhead was designated as the successor of Senator Morgan in case he should die or resign before the expiration of his term. The vote in favor of Bankhead was as binding, morally, on the Democratic Legislature as the vote for Comer was in the Democratic convention.

But in another particular the position of the Legislature is radically different from that of the convention. The convention did not dare to go contrary to the verdict delivered at the polls. The Legislature has the unquestioned legal power to elect any citizen Senator. Governor Comer, who is a violent reformer of the strenuous type, exerted all his personal and official influence to induce the Legislature to disobey the mandate of the people on the ground that it was not legally binding!

Comer's ostensible pretense was that Bankhead is not a fit man intellectually to send to the Senate. His real reason was that he dislikes Bankhead and desires to be Senator himself. He hoped to elect a man who would stand aside at the expiration of his term and allow Comer to step into his shoes. A mixture of personal antagonism and political ambition prompted the Alabama Legislature to dispute the validity of a popular instruction delivered at the polls. Such an instruction whether mandatory constitutionally or not is the basic principle of democratic government, and defiance of it is a deliberate betrayal of the people.

But public opinion was so loud in urging the Legislature to faith with the people that Comer was compelled to cease his treachery. Public protest against his actions began to presage a term, so even Comer's most ardent partisans were forced to seek cover. The result is that Bankhead will be elected practically without opposition. Let his talents be large or small, he is the choice of the voters of Alabama, and the desire of the voters should prevail. However, the incident illustrates how prone selfish and ambitious men are to set their personal interests and wishes above those of the people. Specious arguments are frequently made to justify disobedience to the popular mandate, but all such arguments are merely sophistical pleas in justification of bad faith and political treachery.

The Folsom Telegraph says the streets the Supervisors gave to a dredging company to be destroyed in gold-getting were little traversed. Nevertheless they are public property, and should not have been given to private parties. The Telegraph says the dredging company bought the lots fronting on the streets, and hence the dredging did not injure anybody. It injured the whole community by permanently disfiguring the landscape. If the lots were worth buying as mining property, why were not the streets worth as much proportionately? There is no disguising the fact that the Sacramento Supervisors gave away valuable public property without warrant of law and in defiance of every principle of official propriety.

ANOTHER TELEPHONE COMPLAINT.

Fruitvale, June 29, 1907.
Editor TRIBUNE: Dear Sir.—We noticed in Friday's issue a complaint of phone service signed by Mr. Eben C. Gay. Kindly allow us to use your valuable paper to tell our tale of woe. We started a business in Fruitvale on the 11th day of May, 1907, and one week previous to that date we signed a contract for one year for a telephone, but up to this date have not received any satisfaction as to when we will be able to get one. My customers are complaining all the time that they cannot get me by phone. They seem to think that I do not want to put in one, which is not so. The blame is all on the company. Is not the telephone considered a public utility? Is there not something in all the franchises that says an applicant can have one by conforming with their rules within a reasonable time? Is not forty-nine days a considerable time for a business house to wait for a phone? I will leave the question to be answered by the business men of Oakland and Fruitvale.

We have been subscribers for your paper ever since opening, and have also used your valuable paper for ads with good results. Hoping that you will give this space in your paper and assist us in getting a phone, we remain, Respectfully yours,

Pointed Paragraphs

DeWolf Hopper had a slight cold one night, and in a court speech referred to it in this fashion: "I want to my doctor," he declared, "and the doctor said I had been eating too much nitrogenous food and must stop it and eat farinaceous food. Since that I haven't been able to eat at all, for I don't know what either word means."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was once on an electioneering tour in Ontario, and as the elections were bitterly contested every effort was made to stir up race and religious prejudice. One day a Quebec Liberal sent this telegram to Sir Wilfrid: "Report in circulation in this country that your children have not been baptized. Telegraph denial!" To this the premier replied: "Sorry to say report is correct. I have no children."

Judge Vernon M. Davis of the New York Supreme Court has officially decided that drunkenness, unless accompanied by violence is not cruelty under the statutes of that State. A wife asked for a separation from her husband on the ground that he came home drunk at frequent periods. Her plea was thrown out of court on the grounds above stated. In suit, degradation, the infamy of being the wife of a drunkard, counted for nothing in her plea so long as he did not lay physical hands upon her.

Dr. Emil Reich, the famous lecturer and historian, was once discussing marriage at a dinner in New York. "That was a wise saying of the old Greek philosopher," murmured an electrician. "Whether you marry or not, you will regret it." "I knew an old maid in my native Berlin," said Dr. Reich, "who once got off a saving almost as good as the immortal Greek one 'Auntie,' said her little niece to her, 'what would you do if you had your life to live over again?' The lonely spinster, with a sour smile, answered: 'Get married before I had sense enough to decide to be an old maid.'"

Judge J. B. Ballinger of Seattle, the new commissioner of the general land office of the Interior Department at Washington, has set the politicians and lobbyists to guessing as to what manner of man he is. When members of the Senate and House call to see him on official business he refuses to converse with them in whispers, but makes them talk out loud so that everybody within earshot can hear what is going on. To some Senators and Representatives who have objected to his tactics the new land commissioner has politely suggested that they write him fully on the subjects of their mission and that he will reply by mail. But, curiously enough, even this method is not satisfactory to many of them.

BATHING WOMEN MAY WEAR THEIR SUITS ON STREETS

Beach Residents' "Hobby" Gets Knockout Blow by Official Finding of Corporation Counsel.

NEW YORK, July 1.—It is not a personal offense for a pretty young woman with shapely limbs to walk the streets of Rockaway Beach clad in a bathing suit, unless the act be done with criminal intent.

This, after an exhaustive research into all the authorities, is the official finding of Corporation Counsel Ellison. The opinion is a knockout blow for Rockaway Beach taxpayers who have been shocked by throngs of young and pretty women in abbreviated bathing suits walking nonchalantly through the town, admired by the men. In a complaint of taxpayers, which was sent to Ellison, this statement was made:

"The custom of our summer people in parading through our streets in their bathing suits is a thing that must be stopped at once. This is the sentiment of all classes of citizens, for it is something awful to see between 5000 and 10,000 at a time going through our streets without any concern or skirts."

"Practically the only question involved," says Ellison, in a long type-written opinion, "is whether wearing a bathing suit is, under the circumstances, a crime. If not, the police should not interfere. They are not censors of public morals and ordinarily a person can dress as he or she pleases, so long as the attire worn is not a disguise or a breach of public decency."

Neckwear Reveals Character.

It is quite remarkable how a woman's character appears in her choice of a scarf. If a woman is addicted to very long and obtrusive co's feather scarfs she is almost certain to be small and jerky and have a spiteful manner of a silly laugh; she wags and jerks as she walks, and all those co's feathers keep time and flap in sympathy with the silly laugh or look like so many little daggers when the spiteful mood is near. Tall, calm women upon whom they would wear never wear co's feathers, but drape the calmest of crepe scarfs about their necks.

If they are jaunty or of a flirtatious mind they fling one end of their scarfs over their shoulders, and if unrestrainedly fling both ends of the scarf float in an abandoned manner down their backs. If of a deep religious mind a white ostrich feather boa of medium size is chosen, while the less religious chooses natural or dark mixture ostrich feather neckties of small size and velvet ends.

The more proper the person the smaller the feather scarf, the fewer the ends and the more "natural" the feathers.

Those who have risen to extreme heights of frivolity wear pink or blue tulle ruffles, and adventuresses wear large ostrich feather round boas of emerald green or royal blue; the soulful let their scarfs droop down their backs, while the aggressive wear them well up around the ears, and the wicke dury themselves almost to the nose in their feathers. But the subtle characteristics of what we wear around our necks are really endless and afford an absorbing study to anyone who cares to undertake it.

SAYS HUSBAND STARVED HER TO SECURE DIVORCE

Wife of Wealthy Broker Accuses Him of Scheming to Secure Freedom Without Paying Alimony.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Charging that her husband, a wealthy stock broker, had been trying to starve her into seeking a divorce without alimony, Mrs. Alexander J. Miller caused his arrest as he was about to leave his apartments in the Rosemore, No. 444 Central Park South, she said, to seek a breakfast in a cafe, leaving her to a meal of cocoa and bread, which she says has been her regular diet since the husband cut off her supplies.

Magistrate Butts had issued the warrant for Miller's arrest after hearing from the speculator's beautiful wife how he had forced her to live on nothing a week in their costly apartment overlooking the park and came in at midnight, and later to detail the menus of the fine wine dinners he had enjoyed.

After the magistrate had fixed Miller's bond at $250, the speculator returned to his home.

TELEPHONED FOR POLICE.

Stormy words and oaths, Mrs. Miller says, followed this visit, and fearing that her husband was going to strike her she says she tried to telephone police headquarters for help. In the tussle at the phone she received an electric shock, she says, that made her scream with pain, and Miller fled to the street. She then called headquarters and Patrolman M. Sullivan was sent to her rescue. The husband did not return, however, and Mrs. Miller was left in trembling possession of her apartment.

Mrs. Miller is the daughter of an old Brooklyn family whose name she is trying to keep out of her present trouble. Her father and mother own much property, but as they did not much approve of her marriage, her pride will not let her appeal to them. She

HUSBAND BREAKER

The ingenuity of the modern woman has discovered a new method of earning a competence.

She breaks husbands. There have been women who made their living at breaking horses, but not until very lately did some emancipated feminine genius go in for husband breaking.

Ingenuous woman! For a moderate fee she is prepared to make a lengthened stay, and gradually mold the newly-married husband according to the pattern that his wife requires. Since Adam was driven from Paradise it is doubtful if man has ever felt the effects of the fall so severely as he does at this moment!

MOTHERS! IS YOUR CHILD LIKE THIS?

"see," said the Old Traveller, "that our noble President is taking a fall out of the nature students and saying that the marked peculiarities that they observe in wolves and bears and wild cats, he never saw, but that he has seen varmints with ways the like of which they never saw in all their born days."

"I'm not committing myself to either side. These mighty hunters who pursue big game with a fountain pen and a kodak surely do see sights, but, without wishing to brag upon myself, I think I may say, without fear of contradiction, that I came very near to once capturing the strangest and rarest animal in the world."

"It was the little creature known as the Obedient Child, that is practically extinct now, only a scattering specimen of the species being seen at rare times and at long intervals."

"In size and form it greatly resembled a boy of about ten years of age, and indeed at first I mistook it for just an ordinary child; but I soon saw my mistake, for I noticed that when the lady spoke to the little creature and told it to do a certain thing it went immediately and did it, and when she told it not to do a thing it refrained at once from doing it."

"Safely concealed from view, I watched the gambolling of the little animal that seemed as merry and as mischievous as a monkey, but always the same strange thing happened. At a word from the lady he docilely came and went and did as he was bidden. At first she had a box of sweets that she was feeding it, but at her word, 'That's enough,' he stopped eating, and the box was put aside without a whine of complaint or an entreaty for more. At another time he was making a piece of tin upon an iron fence, and, although the discordant noise seemed to delight his undeveloped ear, when the lady called to him, 'Carl!'—for that I ascertained was the creature's name—'Carl, quit making that noise,' it immediately desisted. So, too, when

SOCIETY: GOSSIP ABOUT SMART SET

The marriage of Miss Ruth Salinger and Charles de Young Elkens took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Salinger, on Filbert street.

The ceremony, at which the Rev. M. Friedlander officiated, was marked by the utmost simplicity with only the relatives and a few chosen friends of the couple present.

The decorations were in pink with a touch of green in the hallway and dining-room, where ferns were used with the pretty blossoms.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white silk with a tulle veil and carried roses.

Miss Sylvia Salinger attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing an attractive gown of pink silk.

The bride is a charming young woman with a host of friends in Berkeley and Oakland.

LOYALTY IS KEYNOTE TO WEDDED HAPPINESS

Neither Married Man Nor Woman Has Right to Carry on Flirtations, Says Noted Writer.

By MRS. JOHN A. LOGAN.

We regret to see in a long article by John Strange Winter a tendency to apologize for this species of vanity and infidelity on the part of married men. The writer strains the point by saying that without this privilege there could be no society and insists that if a man devotes all of his time to his wife and is dominated by her, he would not have even the privilege of dancing with any one else. Nobody imagines that the civilities that obtain in social life border on flirtations. There would be few women who would allow themselves to dance with married men if they thought that by so doing they would be the victims of flirtatious propensities of their partners. No sane woman would expect her husband to be always in her company. On the contrary, a woman is very glad when other women admire her husband, as it, in a word, commends her choice, but it is known that this same woman would not be at all satisfied if she discovered in her husband a disposition to carry on a flirtation with other women.

There can be no more reprehensible tendency in any man than that he should allow himself to indulge in foolish attentions to either married or unmarried women. Women are also warned of the consequences of their accepting these attentions seriously, and are given good advice. It is quite true that all flirtations and unhappily, and not infrequently in the disgrace of the parties to such illicit relations.

There is no such thing as an innocent flirtation, and the same may be said of platonic friendships between men and women, as there is a limit even in the warmth of regard manifested for one's dearest friends, and the moment that one steps outside of the proprieties which govern the intercourse of men and women, that moment one may be subject to criticism and to misconstruction of one's feelings toward another.

Loyalty in thought, word and deed should govern every married man and woman, and when that loyalty does not exist there is much misunderstanding, heart burning, and all too frequently ultimate separation.

Oftentimes one drifts into and out of regard for some accepted friend, who, presuming upon courtesies shown him, dares to take unwarranted privileges, causing the keenest suffering to the person who had shown him every kindness and courtesy.

Woman's vanity and love of admiration from the husband of one's choice often leads her to accept adulation of her friends, thereby inflicting, without any compunctions of conscience, unspeakable mischief which she has wrought and can never undo.

Men are not behind women in vanity, conceit and love of admiration, and will accept flattery from a wife's best friend or any other silly woman who is foolish enough to bestow it upon one whom she knows has sworn to love and cherish another.

As a matter of fact, flirtations should be condemned in men and women; neither has the right to indulge in this species of evil, especially if either is married. Trifling with human affections is one of the most cowardly and wicked propensities of mankind, and absolutely without hope of happy or moral results.

Are Women the Stronger?

"We are much stronger than men physically," said a lady, "which to me is the most surprising thing in this evolution of women. We, of course, expect the rush of business in these times of such strenuous competition give men little opportunity for culture, and the women must help them by doing the things they cannot do in this respect. But why should we be growing physically stronger? Men cannot hammer a nail any better than we can as a general thing. They would die in the small amount of clothing that we wear, and they are much more susceptible to disease than their wives and daughters. Really, the problem is interesting."

BORN BEFORE REVOLUTION WOMAN IS STILL LIVING

Mrs. Woods, of Portland, Was an Infant When Washington Was Elected President.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 1.—About the time the American colonies realized the necessity of federation, while the United States Constitution was as yet unwritten and the nation still unborn, there came into the world on a farm near Knoxville, Tenn., a girl baby who was destined to witness the marvelous changes that have since transformed the world and to survive out of the old time into ours.

The child that learned to lisps when Washington was president in the eighteenth century still lives to talk of President Roosevelt in the twentieth century, and eyes that a hundred years ago looked lovingly upon her first-born today smile with a fading light upon the "child of her old age," a woman now nearly 77.

IN HER 121ST YEAR.

This woman, now in her 121st year, is Mrs. Mary Ramsey Woods, and she lives in a modest little cottage of her own at Hillsboro, a suburb of Portland.

She was a tiny maid when the French revolution was dicing the gutters of Paris red; she was a laughing schoolgirl of seven when Tennessee was admitted as a State to the Union; she was a blushing bride when the great Napoleon ceded Louisiana to the United States, and a proud young mother when Lewis and Clarke tramped over a continent to "where rolls the Oregon." And she well remembers her father taking down his old gun, shouldering his blankets and going out to fight the battles of his country in the War of 1812.

Though probably the oldest woman in the world, her intellect is still keen, as is shown by the fact that a little over a year ago her testimony decided a lawsuit and settled the title to property which was deeded over forty-two years ago.

WIDOWED 75 YEARS AGO.

Mrs. Woods was married at the age of 17 to Jacob Lemons, a prosperous farmer, and the couple lived happily together in their Tennessee home for many years. She was left a widow seventy-five years ago, about the time that Andrew Jackson was nearing the end of his first term as President. Four children were born to the couple, Mary J. Lemons, who died in Tennessee four years ago at the age of 98; Isaac Lemons, who died in Kansas City, Mo., forty-two years ago; Nancy E. Bullock, who died at Hillsboro forty years ago, and Mrs. C. B. Reynolds, who is now living in Hillsboro, and who, though 77 years of age, is devoting her life to the care of her aged parent.

Mrs. Woods talks in a quavering voice, but very distinctly, with a marked Southern accent.

She is blind in one eye as the result of an illness thirty-eight years ago. Her "third sight" is now failing, though she can still see to thread a large needle. She lost her teeth forty-three years ago, and since then she has worn false teeth. Two years ago she cut a tooth. Her diet consists principally of vegetables. She eats three meals a day and drinks plenty of strong coffee.

HER ANSWER

A bashful swain was he, and so His fervid declarations wrote, And finished up his letter thus: "My love, on you I simply dote!"

But by return of post he got An answer to his frenzied note. It just contained this crisp advice: "You'd better find an antidote!"

BUGS ADVANCE GRAIN PRICES

Wheat Markets, Both Home and Foreign, Active and Strong.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The wheat market today opened active and strong, commission houses and shorts being busy. The only selling was in the way of profit taking. The continental market was strong and it was rumored much damage had been done by hail in Kansas. September wheat opened 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ higher at 96 1/2¢ to 97 1/4¢, sold at 97 1/4¢ and then at 97 1/2¢.

The corn market was quiet and prices were firm in sympathy with wheat. September corn opened a shade to 1/4¢ lower at 53 1/2¢ to 54 1/4¢, sold at 53 1/2¢.

The oats market was active and prices were strong. Additional reports of damage by green bugs were reported from various points in Illinois. September oats opened 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher at 33 1/2¢ to 34 1/4¢, sold at 33 1/2¢ and then at 33 3/4¢.

The provision market was quiet and prices were firm. Pork opened 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher at 11 1/2¢ to 11 3/4¢, sold at 11 1/2¢ and then at 11 3/4¢.

2-CENT FARE LAW IS BEGUN

Illinois Railroads Today Come Under New Legislative Action—Watched With Interest.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The two-cent fare law went into effect on all railroads in Illinois today.

The General Passenger Association and the Western Passenger Association, which include nearly all lines in the State, announced that the rate provided by the law will be in effect on all State traffic. Inter-State rates now in effect, however, will be maintained under the federal rate law until a new tariff has been prepared.

The delay and litigation, so freely predicted at the time the law was passed, will at least be delayed as far as the railroads are concerned, until the new schedule has been maintained for several months, and then to carry the law into the courts with a showing of defeat, should there be any, that will support a plea that the two-cent rate is a loss to the road.

There is a grain of comfort in the Illinois law to the railroads, as it gives the companies the right to charge at the present rate where passengers have neglected to purchase tickets at stations that are open for the sale of tickets at least half an hour before train time.

ASSAULT IS TO BE EASY

Psychic Epilepsy the Hope for "Dummy Chucks" in the Police Circles.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Inquiry among experts in mental diseases disclosed that psychic epilepsy which Dr. Elmen Elliott offered as a plea to excuse an assault the other day—a plea which amazed some of the district attorneys' assistants, but was accepted by the Justices of special sessions—has long been recognized by physicians.

The prominent feature of the affliction is that its victims are prone to commit acts of violence, ranging from simple assault to murder. While physicians agree that they are a menace to the community and liable to become possessed of a homicidal mania, no insanity expert is willing to have himself quoted as favoring the forced incarceration of those who suffer from the disease.

EXPLAINS MANY THINGS.

An investigation of the symptoms of this disease possibly furnishes an interesting explanation of the many cases of temporary disappearance, "loss of memory" and "lost identity" cases that have been reported in recent years.

Experts say, however, that it must be remembered that impostures are common enough and many follow to imposture of this sort is very difficult to detect. Numerous cases are recorded by various authors upon medical jurisprudence, where the deception has kept up for some years. Such impostures are known among medical experts and the police as "dummy chucks."

REGISTRATION IN MANILA DISAPPOINTING

MANILA, July 1.—The result of registration for the coming election has proved a disappointment. When the booths were opened on Saturday only 7300 voters, including 800 Americans, had registered. The native leaders anticipated that there would be about 10,000 voters, but the majority of the men in the great crowd which thronged the booths on the first day were apparently lost interest and failed to qualify.

NOT SO EASY AS PREACHING

Minister Has Unique Method of Spending Vacation—Living Life of Workman.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Sleeping at night in a twenty-cent room and tramping the streets by day in search of work, Albert R. Williams, a young preacher who has chosen to live the life of New York's poor this summer, instead of taking a vacation abroad, has found in the first forty-eight hours of his ordeal that New York has lots of sympathy but few jobs for the boy who comes here without money, reference or technical training to win his bread.

Mr. Williams was graduated recently from the Hartford Theological school with high honors and a valuable scholarship. Before assuming the duties of a pulpit, however, he resolved to study the conditions among the poor of the slums at first hand. He has cut himself off entirely from his friends and relatives.

Eight dollars, one suit of old clothes and a cap formed the full accoutrements of the young man when he set out. In the first two days of his wanderings he found no work.

Mr. Williams will continue at his self-imposed task. His money is rapidly dwindling and he is living as cheaply as possible so as to make it last until he gets a job.

WAS VICTIM OF APHASIA

New Jersey Tailor Who Strangely Wandered From Home Is Himself Again.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Charles P. Brewin, the Burlington, N. J., tailor who wandered away from home and family four years ago and was found recently working in a dyeing and cleansing establishment in Plainfield, came to a realization of his surroundings Sunday.

Brewin, who is supposed to have been a sufferer from aphasia, a mental disorder which deprives its victim of memory antedating a certain time has been unable to recall the incidents in his earlier life.

Yesterday Dr. Buchanan a Burlington physician and his father called upon Brewin. Both had known the sufferer years ago. At sight of them Brewin started back "something broke in his brain" as he put it, and a flood of light illumined the past. He thought he had left home the day before and spoke of events which took place at the time of his disappearance as though not more than twenty-four hours had intervened. He asked for members of his family and begged to be taken to them at once.

HAVE LANDED THE MURDERER

New York Police Ask for Extradiction of the Slayer of the Armenian Priest.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Commissioner Bingham will ask the State Department today to apply for the extradition of Boghos Barkain, an Armenian, from Marseilles to this city, on the supposition that he is the man who was involved in the murder of Father Kasper Martman, the Armenian priest whose body was found in a trunk on May 25 here.

Captain McCafferty of the detective bureau, says that he has every reason to believe that Boghos Barkain is the man who was known in this city as Paul Sarkisian and who, with another Armenian, known as John Mooradian, is supposed to have murdered the priest for the money that he was thought always to carry in a little black silk bag about his neck. It was in the room of these two men that the trunk with the body inside was found.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

How the small farmer of the United States is letting pass from him an opportunity that lies ready to his hands has just been brought forcibly to public notice. Recently the United States on a ship load of immigrants from Northern Europe the advance guard of many thousands expected to arrive today. These are not the kind of immigrants who may be seen at Ellis Island but carefully selected laborers and small farmers invited by South Carolina to become citizens. Many of them brought sufficient money to purchase small farms and when they have done so there will be presented the somewhat remarkable spectacle of the alien, speaking the language of the land of their adoption, selling an opportunity which the land's own people, thousands of small farmers, worked-out and barren Northern and Eastern farms, have failed to see.

Nothing could be known of this class of conditions in the South than the fact that South Carolina found it necessary to establish her Department of Immigration and send agents to Europe to secure desirable settlers; an example which will shortly be followed by Georgia and other Southern States.—Technical World Magazine.

SAVED BY A TEAR.

A touching little story is related of the aged Emperor of Austria. The other day a death warrant was given him to sign. He read carefully the documents bearing on the case, and afterward sat for some time in deep thought. At last, with a sigh and evident reluctance, he took up the pen and began slowly tracing his signature. But as he wrote two large tears rolled down his cheeks and fell upon the paper. "Look," he said, throwing aside the pen and turning to his secretary, "I cannot sign this. See for yourself. My tears have blotted it out. I grant the condemned man his life. Surely heaven will let me!"

W. O. W. UNVEIL DISGRACEMENT

Erected to the Memory of the Late Chief Consul, F. A. Falkenburg.

DENVER, July 1.—Over a thousand graves in Fairmount Cemetery, the Woodmen of the World yesterday unveiled a magnificent monument to the memory of late Head Consul F. A. Falkenburg—unveiled it with full ritual and imposing pomp, while the daughter of the dead, Mrs. Falkenburg, still had an appeal pending in the District Court asking for a permanent injunction restraining the Woodmen from using the name of her father on their monument.

There was a good representation of the leading officials of the order at the ceremony.

OFFICIALS PRESENT.

There were Sovereign Commander Joseph J. O'Connell, Grand Master J. B. O'Connell, and a large number of other officials. The memorial address was made by George F. Woolley of Omaha, manager of the Oregon district of the Woodmen of the World. J. E. Fitzgerald of Kansas City, sovereign commander of the Woodmen of the World, and J. C. Latham of the head camp were there. Uniformed companies from Omaha, Kansas City, Cheyenne, Colorado Springs, Fort Collins, Pueblo and Denver gave a semi-military appearance to the function.

RENEWS FIGHT.

That the beautiful stone will ever fully fulfill its mission is doubtful. Mrs. Falkenburg is determined her father's body shall not be buried in the cemetery. The suit for an injunction, the stone of the order will serve only as a tribute and memorial and will not mark the grave of Falkenburg.

ARE DUMB BRUTES IMMORTAL?

OAKLAND, June 28.

Editor TRIBUNE:

Dear Sir:—Having read in your paper an article on the immortality of animals, I was at once very much interested, as I am a believer in the same thing, although I am not a professor, and my education is limited. But nevertheless I don't see why an animal has not the same right to be immortal as a human being. In fact, not only an animal but a line of things, which were put on this earth to perform certain duties. They suffer the same as human beings. Why should human beings think they are the only ones entitled to immortality? It is only another case of the human race infected with. Why should Wesley or anyone else think only good animals go to heaven? Who can tell when animal life is good or bad? We say a dog is good if he does not bite, master, or mistress. He is a good dog if he bites an intruder. That is the human side of it. But does the creature think the same? He gave the dog his nature. If the dog lives true to nature, why he is not good, reason, less of what we think? The same with the horse, if he bites, kicks or balks, he is bad. Will that exclude him from heaven? I say, no. Man has made animals what they are. Man has changed the nature as much as he can. Then, I say, man is responsible.

Another learned gentleman says that he knows of nothing in the scriptures that either proves or disproves the immortality of animals. I should say not. The Bible was not written for animals, but the human family. The person or persons who wrote the scriptures had, no doubt, plenty of flocks and herds, and it never once entered his mind that animals had any show in the hereafter. If it were possible to make animals worship after our style the times of three or four hundred years ago would be repeated, but having no proof that animals are immortal, and as we know not if we lose or gain any more by it, the question will no doubt remain dead, as far as the human race is concerned. Nevertheless, if a person were to stop and think and remember how some pet of his or hers was, he would soon imagine that animals are not the only brutes, and that animals have as good a show for the hereafter as we have, and again I say: Why not?

STOPPED PILGRIMAGE.

PARIS, July 1.—The government has prohibited the annual pilgrimage to Lourdes because of the agitation in the south.

HISTORY OF CLOTHES.

Devotees of Carlyle who believe in the philosophy of clothes as preached in "Sartor Resartus" should shortly be making Paris a place of special pilgrimage. The gay city is to have a new museum set apart entirely for specimens of coverings for the human frame of all ages. It owes its inception to M. F. Lenoir, the painter, who is president of the Societe de l'histoire du Costume. Within its walls, which will be erected upon a site near the Champ de Mars, the museum is to contain the most wonderful collection of clothes ever brought together. Costumes of all nations, from the earliest times to the present day, will be exhibited on life sized models. Everything is to be there, from the fig-leaf to the track-coat. It is stated that all the money necessary for the new institution has been found without state aid, mostly through the efforts of artists and lovers of history. No doubt the museum will have its value, even though it be of a somewhat freakish nature.

GUARD-MOUNT.

The night had come, and forth I fare To post the sentries of my prayer. Their silent watch to keep where I My waking thoughts would be.

Upon a mountain-circled hill, Where cries the plaintiff whip-door-will, Two prayers shall pass to keep from ill Whom God has given me;

Two more shall stand beside their door Who gave me birth, and two before Her, but who lights an alien shore 'With love's long ministry;

And two shall nightly vigil keep To bring us word who nightly weep If they do wake from their long sleep Beneath the linen tree;

To every door two more shall go Where trouble thrives or luck is low, Waits but the deepening dark to throw His dart of misery;

And one in silent round I send From prayer to prayer, his aid to lend If there be special need to fend Against the enemy.

Forth to your posts, my sentinels, Till matin prayer's revellie-bells Give you relief, and daylight tells Where evil shadows dwell. O, my Father, in Century.

Chile Volcanoes Active Again—Great Loss of Life and of Property.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 1.—Valdivia dispatches report that the Rinihuale volcano, the crater of which is now larger, is ejecting huge columns of boiling water, which together with stones and ashes, has caused the death of fifteen Indian families and many head of cattle.

VALPARAISO, Chile, July 1.—A volcano which has appeared in La Union district of the province of Valdivia stopped the course of the Papasun river with an immense stone dam. An extension of the valley up to the crater, which filled the valley up to the crater, soon after the water began to boil and as it continued to rise its pressure swept the dam away, inundating the neighboring country. Everything living was killed. Fourteen corpses have been found among the steaming debris.

The new volcano lies close to Mocho Puyehue and Pillan volcanoes.

HE MURDERED HIS FRIEND

Killed the Man to Whom He Owed Money to Settle the Accounts.

CHICAGO, July 1.—John Long, 68 years of age, a watchman in the La-Velle Manufacturing Company's factory at 9 Dayton street, was murdered while on duty yesterday. Two hours after Long's body had been discovered on the first floor of the building, the police found Joseph Voelkel, aged 20, a former employee of the company, lying in the rear of the factory. Voelkel was mortally wounded and near him lay a revolver with three chambers empty. He had a bullet hole in the right temple. Long had been shot twice. Voelkel died last night. Long's watch and torn chain were found in Voelkel's pocket, and the two had quarreled frequently about money.

Voelkel and the old watchman were friends, to all appearances, but fellow employees said the young man was deep in Long's debt and that the two quarreled frequently over money matters. Voelkel is supposed to have gone to the factory to get more money or to continue the old arguments. What took place in the factory no one knows.

BERKELEY MINISTER IS HANGED IN EFFIGY

His Life Is Threatened Because He Is Attempting to Stamp Out the Liquor Evil.

BERKELEY, July 1.—His unflinching championship of temperance work in Berkeley has caused the Rev. Geo. H. Wilkins, pastor of the West Berkeley Presbyterian Church, to be hanged in effigy. Worse still, the life of the minister has been threatened because he is endeavoring to stamp out the liquor evil in the college town.

When the Rev. Dr. Wilkins approached the entrance to his church this morning he found attached to it a dummy figure representing himself hanging in effigy. Over the figure was a placard containing a threat against Dr. Wilkins' life.

Knowing that he has inspired dangerous enemies by his crusade against the liquor traffic, Dr. Wilkins immediately notified the Berkeley police. Officers were sent to the West Berkeley Church, who detached the figure in effigy as well as the placard. These were taken to police headquarters as evidence, and a determined hunt was at once begun for the guilty person.

The police state that they have positive evidence fastening this outrage on a certain man who has declared his hostility for Dr. Wilkins. His name, however, they refuse to make known until after his arrest.

Dr. Wilkins' fight against the liquor traffic in Berkeley has become uncompromising and bitter. Again and again from his pulpit he has exposed the men who are responsible for intemperance in the university town. Dr. Wilkins is not daunted by the sinister threat embodied by the effigy attached to his church door, and will continue his warfare in behalf of temperance. It is thought he has put the police in possession of the information which will lead to the arrest of the person who adopted so gruesome and menacing a method of intimidating him.

SUCH ARE THE WOES OF MRS. WILLIAM T. SUCH

Woman Tells Court Hubby Preferred Primrose Path to Own Cheery Fireside and Wife.

"Such is the case, Mrs. Such: I am going to live a new life; a life where I can tread the primrose path and stay out all night and drink to my heart's content without having a woman to nag and nag me when I come home," were the words spoken by William T. Such, a dairyman of Claremont district, Berkeley, to his wife, Marie L. Such, when in June, 1904, he gave her a last farewell.

Mrs. Such claimed she was in a predicament. Several attempts at reconciliation had failed, so she sought the aid of the divorce courts to settle her troubles. She waited until the conventional year was up and then Such was made the defendant in a divorce action on the grounds of desertion. The couple were married in San Francisco in July, 1890.

This morning a final decree of divorce was signed by Superior Judge Waste.

LOVELY DAY.

In addition to the free, easy going life Such is said to be an adherent of Mrs. Such says he was a member of a gun club that shot things out pretty lively for her as long as they lived together.

One day when Such was going out for a horseback ride, Mrs. Such said, "This is a lovely day, isn't it?" "Why, little girl, come back the answer of Such, 'Don't you know that I am not living with you any more and such a thing would be impossible.' By this he drove away and Mrs. Such says that since then she has had a lonesome time.

Meta Jensen brought suit for divorce this morning against Jacob Jensen on the grounds of failure to provide for the maintenance of the pair lived in San Leandro in January, 1905. Jensen treated her in a shameful and heartless manner. They have two children, a boy, Melvin, 9 years of age, and a girl, Myrtle, 6 years of age. Mrs. Jensen is now in the custody of the child, and $35 a month on which to support them. The couple were married in San Francisco, February 17, 1895.

On the grounds of failure to provide for the maintenance of the pair, Mrs. Jensen seeks a separation from Rudolph Schneider. They were married in New York on April 13, 1900, and have a son, William, whose custody Mrs. Schneider asks for.

CUT OFF FROM ESTATE BY DIVORCE FROM DEAD WIFE

Final Decree Legally Separating B. F. Calhoun From Deceased Spouse Gives $10,000 to Woman's Relatives.

Benjamin F. Calhoun, painter by trade and a labor leader of Berkeley, who deals a little in town politics, was definitely cut off from the estate of his late wife, Jennie F. Calhoun, this morning by a final decree of divorce signed by Superior Judge Melvin. By this procedure, Calhoun is left without a cent of the $100,000 estate that the former wife bequeathed to her brother and sister, John Fisher and Maggie Fick respectively.

The Calhouns and family resided at 1000 Broadway, where they were finally cut off from the divorce court. Mrs. Calhoun charged her husband with neglecting to take her life, throwing a arm around her and using violence that caused her to call for police protection. She also charged him with desertion on October 21, 1905, and on November 8 of the same year the interlocutory decree was entered on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

Prior to the entering of the divorce decree and in October, 1906, John Fisher and Maggie Fick and John Fisher, Jr. and his wife, Mrs. Calhoun and her husband entered into an agreement as to the settlement of the family property. Calhoun is said to have received $200 in cash and a promissory note of $100 in exchange for a mortgage. In exchange for this he was to renounce all claims on the property of his wife.

Mrs. Calhoun died on November 23, 1906, after a week's illness, and before she had a chance to obtain a final decree of divorce. Her brother and sister had a final decree signed some months later, when Calhoun was notified that the decree was set aside for the time being.

Calhoun in turn made a declaration for homecoming in the family home near Humboldt street and Dwight way, Berkeley, stating that he was not concerned with the executor and executrix of the estate and Calhoun was dropped as a claimant on the estate. Another contest was waged by the executor and executrix of the estate and Calhoun was dropped as a claimant on the estate. The final decree of divorce that was signed in the divorce court involved many complicated points and was almost unparalleled in the history of the state.

W. P. SOON TO BE IN HAYWARD

Work to be Delayed to Await Completion of Steel and Concrete Bridge.

HAYWARD, July 1.—By the end of this week the Western Pacific Railroad will have its roadbed completed to San Lorenzo creek, the city limits of Hayward. At that point the work will be stopped to await the completion of a concrete and steel bridge over the creek and then will proceed toward Oakland. From this place east toward Niles the work is being rapidly pushed in that connection trains will soon be running between this place and Stockton. The line from that place west to within seven miles of Alameda, this county, and trains are now run over the connections between here and Stockton will be made as soon as the Niles tunnel is finished.

WORK WELL DONE.

The engineers of the road are doing their work well. Every tie that is laid, every rail put down is put there to stay. Original construction is to be of steel. This, it is said, is the first time in the history of railroads in this state that this has been done. Other roads have put in temporary bridges on first construction and replaced them with more substantial structures later. The Western Pacific is putting in concrete and steel structures wherever a stream is bridged or a gully crossed. When the road is completed through this section it will be ready for the heavy traffic that is expected from the Eastern points.

FOUR DIE OF DESERT THIRST

One Found Dead and Three Succumb After Being Discovered by Train Crew.

RIVERSIDE, July 1.—The hot wave sweeping over the desert caused the deaths of four men, who were discovered by a train crew yesterday. The bodies were found in a desert ravine, where they had been for several days. The men were found in a state of extreme dehydration and were unable to move. The train crew discovered the bodies while passing through the area. The men were identified as being from the same area. The cause of death was determined to be desert thirst. CONSELT SAVED WOMAN'S LIFE

Turned Bullets Fired by Hold-Up Men and Prevented Serious Wound.

BUTTE, Mont., July 1.—After remaining inactive for some time, the hold-up artists resumed business last night and were prevented from committing murder only by a woman's counsel.

Joseph Rago keeps a small candy store on West Alameda street. Shortly after 10 o'clock his wife was summoned into the store and confronted by two masked men, who, pointing revolvers at her, commanded her to hold up her hands. The woman tried to argue with them, telling them there was nothing of value to be taken, but eventually was compelled to obey the order.

Her husband in an adjoining room, heard the altercation and entered the store. He too was ordered to hold up his hands, but ducked beneath the counter, where he secured a gun.

As soon as the husband disappeared the bandits fired at the woman. One bullet struck the woman's arm, but was deflected by a corset steel and inflicted only a slight wound. The bandits then fled, Rago pursuing them and firing several shots, but without effect. Two men have been arrested on suspicion of being the bandits.

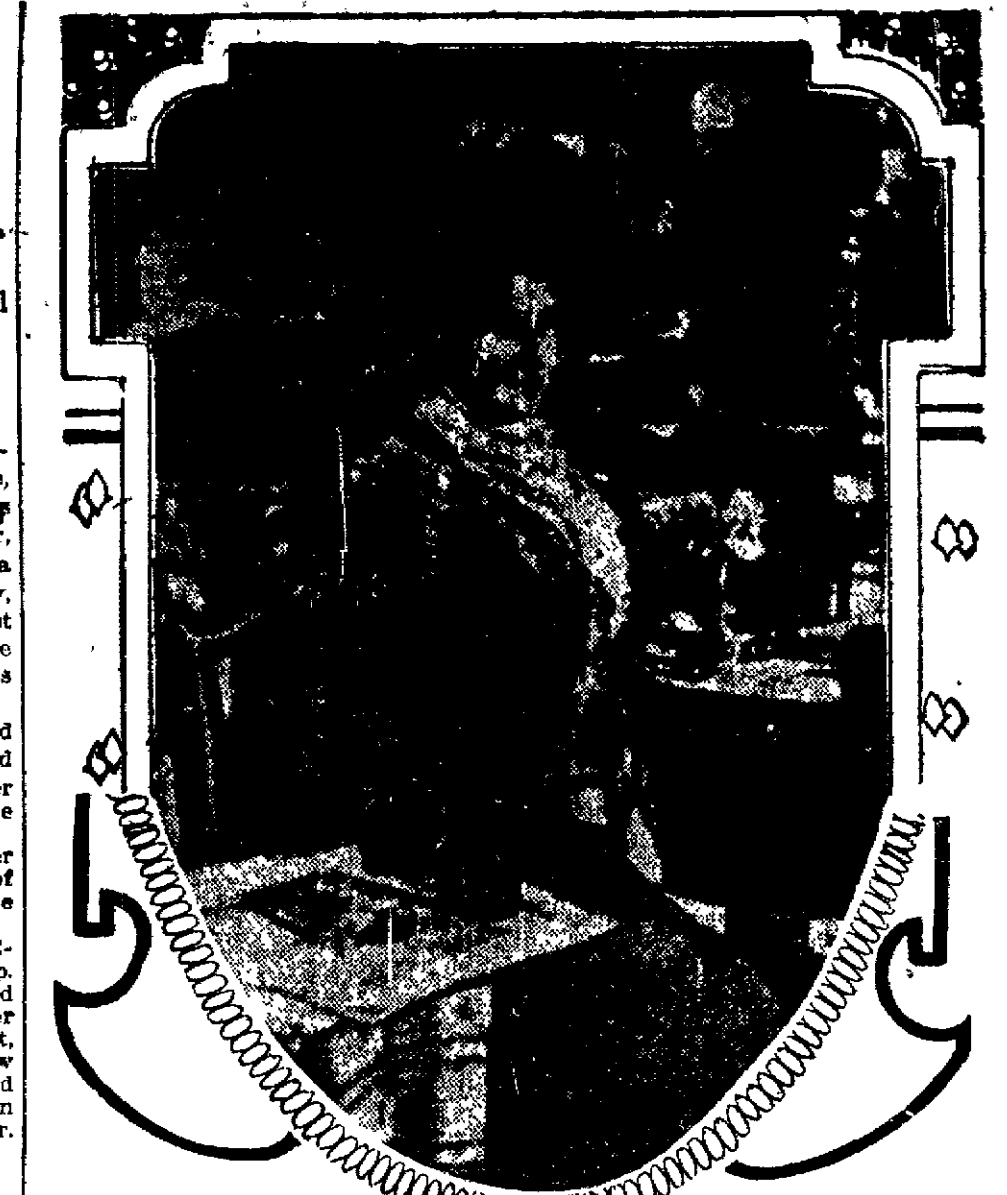

ROPE AND KNIFE FAIL TO KILL

Nurse Makes Two Unsuccessful Attempts to Commit Suicide.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., July 1.—Making a desperate attempt at suicide, first by hanging by her apron strings to the hinges of her bedroom door, then by hacking at her throat with a dull table knife, Mrs. John Cawley, aged fifty years, was discovered last night in time to save her life. The woman is a native of England, but has lived here several years.

She had no relatives here, but lived with a Mrs. Moran, whom she nursed through a long illness, until the latter died about a week ago. Since then she had been despondent.

She tried hanging last night, but her choking sound attracted attention of the occupants of the other part of the house, who came and cut her down. Dr. A. H. Dundon administered medicine and left her, supposedly asleep. On his departure, she got out of bed and took a table knife and hacked her throat. She was heard moving about, and neighbors took the knife and drove her to the hospital. She was called again, and attended the gashes. Then he left an attendant in charge of her.

BAROMETERS FOR MOTOR CARS

It is diverting when touring to have fitted to the front of the car, in addition to the usual "compteur kilométrique" and watch, a thermometer, a barometer, a compass and speed indicator. The thermometer should be fixed where its bulb receives indirectly the heat of the air drawn through the radiator and thrown off from the motor, and will thus furnish an excellent guide to the temperature of the latter. In case the pump should fail to work, or a connection in the water cooling system break, a dangerously high temperature of the motor would at once show itself on the thermometer. The barometer is not only useful in enabling one to know the probable state of the weather during the ensuing twenty-four hours—a great advantage when engaged in mountain touring—but it also shows constantly the exact number of meters above sea level, and the altitude of each spot over which the automobile travels.—New York Herald's Paris Edition.

TO CURE ECZEMA

Eczeema is much more common in infants than generally is supposed and often the poor baby is accused of being cross or hungry and has to endure being walked with or having forced into its stomach a medicine which does not cure it, but perhaps causes a new pain in addition to his other troubles. With eczeema the skin is itchy and often the baby scratches himself to his ears, older children will often scratch their faces and necks, even infants who have not yet learned the use of their hands will in some way reach the itchy places.

Ordinarily eczeema is relieved by the use of some hot application, and a small rubber band comes made expressly for this purpose. These may be filled with hot water and applied. It is well to make a small band coming from the elbow to the hand, or even sand if nothing better is at hand. Place the filled band in the oven and close the door. This will have as good results as the ear bag mentioned. If the application is made after repeated use of hot water, the pain will be relieved.

WIFE'S GHOST HAS ICY HANDS

Lays Them on Widower Because Wedding Ring Was Buried With Her.

CLINTON, Iowa, July 1.—Declaring that his wife's wedding ring had been buried with her, and that the dead woman had come to his bedside and touched him with an icy finger, William Dierling, temporarily demented from brooding over his loss, it is alleged, threatened to kill his three children, and is now in the county jail for safe-keeping.

Since the death of his wife ten days ago Dierling has slept hardly at all, but when, after his arrest, the chief of police discovered that the wedding ring had not been buried with the woman, and secured it and showed it to the bereaved husband, the latter at once fell into a restless sleep.

When arraigned before the commissioners of Insanity, Dierling said: "My wife came to me every night and placed her cold hands upon me. She is angry because I did not remove the wedding ring from her finger, but allowed it to be buried with her."

When Dierling was told that the ring had been removed by the dead woman's mother, and was in her possession, he at once quieted down, and it is believed that he will eventually regain his reason.

MOB GOVERNOR ON DIAMOND

Baseball Fans Yell "You're Rotten" and Carry Umpire From Field.

TRENTON, N. J., July 1.—Governor Stokes was mobbed a few days ago as he was officiating as umpire of a baseball game between teams of senators and assemblymen, which resulted in a score of 15 to 2 in favor of the House. Three innings were played.

While Senator Colby was pitching the Governor declared a man safe at second base. Immediately the crowd yelled at his excellency. "You're rotten!"

Quartermaster General C. Edward Murray led the mob, who surrounded the governor, and bodily carried him off the field, and substituted Counsel Baskes, of the House. Baskes, investigating committee, "is the only honest umpire on the grounds."

GOOD WEDDING GIFT

Orange bowls are a beautiful novelty for high favor for wedding gifts. They are not apt to be duplicated. They come in Bohemian, engraved, cut glass, and each bowl, rim and base, is artistically decorated by one of these methods. The bowl is just large enough for half an orange, the rim is an inch and a quarter wide and the base is in good proportion to the upper part, making the whole a handsome plate can be used with this bowl, although a more colorful bowl is recommended. A young bride who had received a half dozen of the Bohemian glass bowls remarked: "My orange bowls are certainly one of my most practical gifts. For I can use them in so many ways. They are perfectly lovely for ice cream, sherbet, and fruit salads."

OAKLAND LOSES BOTH GAMES SOME OAKLAND PLAYERS NEED BRAIN

Heitmuller's Fungo Work in Morning Throws Contest Away, While Dashwood Catches Poorly in Afternoon.

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

| Club | W. | L. | Pct. |
|---------------|----|----|------|
| Los Angeles | 43 | 32 | .573 |
| San Francisco | 42 | 33 | .562 |
| Portland | 40 | 35 | .533 |
| Oakland | 29 | 46 | .387 |

Mr. Van Halten's band of fifty young baseball players were duly welcomed by the Portland Beavers yesterday, and as a result lost the series to that bunch. In the morning McCredie's hard-bolled athletes won 4 to 2, and in the afternoon they repeated 3 to 1.

The morning game was lost through dense stupidity. Heine Heitmuller assuming the leading role.

Heine allowed two hits to get away from him in the morning session, both of which counted for triples, when each by any sort of fielding could have been held to a single.

In the fifth inning Carson lifted one to Heitmuller's territory. Heine began swinging around after the ball and chased the globe with all the ease and grace of a charter member of the scrub ladies' union chasing a bar of soap over a wet marble floor. The ball got away from Heitmuller and Carson took third on this miscue.

It was not at all a difficult rap to get under. A robust convent girl would have blushed to have allowed that one to escape. After the ball dropped safely Heitmuller, befuddled of brain and myopia of eye, lost track of it. It was a piece of fielding that would have made the wisest tyro blush for very shame.

Again in the seventh inning Schimpf allowed one to Heitmuller. It was a slow twister—the kind which good ball players use judgment on. Heine followed the ball like a dachshund chasing a sausage wagon. The ball slipped past Heine and Schimpf glided to third base. In both instances Heitmuller showed a timidity that was far from becoming a man of his mature physical attainments.

A stashing, tearing, fearless fielder would have caught that rap, and not felt that he had done anything unusual. But Heitmuller stolidly refused to make that effort, which is necessary to a ball player, and the loss of yesterday morning's contest was charged to Heitmuller's inability to think with any degree of rapidity or certainty.

Cates pitched a fair enough sort of game, but his support was far from what it should be from a gang of ball players who are expected to play. Oakland hit Cates without cohesion or certainty when hits would have been negotiable for runs.

It was an off day for the Oakland team, and Van Halten could do worse than give some of his men a talking to on the art of thinking with certainty and precision.

San Mateo Wins Three Boys Hurt In Baseball Game

SAN MATEO, July 1.—The San Mateo Lacrosse team continued its victorious course yesterday by winning from the rejuvenated Oakland team at Clark's villa by a score of 3 to 3.

The game was played before a select audience at Clark's green and the conditions were excellent for a keen contest.

At the outset, it was evident that the hit-and-run strategy of the Red team was to have things their own way, as the ball traveled without favor to both ends of the field, and the respective custodians kept their charges intact for fifteen minutes. Then O'Brien, the center, and evened the score by a shot that gave McKnight no chance. This was all the score recorded at the first cross-over.

The second quarter was keenly contested, the San Mateo boys attacking continuously throughout the period, but magnificent blocking and checking by Petersen and Deleux kept the score within normal bounds. Cutts and O'Brien finally found the net with clever shots, but there were no chances at the other end through overexcitement, and half-time arrived with the Reds leading by three goals to one.

On resuming, the game resolved itself into a keen contest of exceptional merit. In clean, honest play was always uppermost, and both sides gave glimpses of combination rarely seen on the local fields. Red Lyons was a host in himself at center, and gave his brother attackers plenty of chances, two being accepted by Cutts and Mike Lyons, though O'Brien was really responsible for the latter point. Clarkson also penetrated the other goal, and the third quarter was called with the score standing 5 to 2 in favor of the Reds.

The last section of the game found the Oaklanders showing effects of their earlier strenuous work, and Mike Lyons' play was irrevocable, adding two more goals, while O'Brien also netted once. Clarkson found the net for the third time for the Commuters, and a pleasant game terminated as before stated.

Next week the Olympics and Oaklanders meet in a Lacrosse game at San Jose, where an effort is being made to establish Lacrosse.

The line-up of the teams yesterday was as follows:

Oakland—Deleux, goal; Petersen, P. Deleux, cover point; Jones, first defense; Henderson, second defense; Smith, third defense; O'Brien, center; Burwick, third home; O'Brien, second home; Clarkson, first home; Theberge, outside home; Gowen, outside home.

San Mateo—McQuinn, goal; J. Lyons, point; Pease, cover point; McCarty, first defense; Blason, second defense; Myers, third defense; McCarty, center; O'Brien, third home.

Amateur Notes.

The Eagle baseball club is about to close for their summer vacation. Still we have open dates for the 2d and 3d of July.

The Eagles played Cosgrove Stars a twelve inning game Wednesday and lost on account of a bad decision of the umpire.

The Eagles would like to hear from any team in the county averaging fourteen years. We would especially like to hear from the "Gumby" Demons. Address all challenges to E. C. Chapman, 490 Thirty-seventh street, Oakland.

If your team wants to cross bats with the best lot of good fellows you ever met, send a challenge to "The Mello's Babe Ball Team." Address challenges, J. H. MELLO, 782 E. Twelfth St., East Oakland, Cal.

The Randolph Club of Alameda lost a game to the Knickerbockers of that place Sunday, by the score of 16-9.

The Randolphs were handicapped by the loss of two of their regular players.

The Knickerbockers practically won the game through the playing of their battery, Willis and Brandt. Fluke for the Knickerbocker Club, pitched good game, and Knappier, their catcher, did some fine work behind the bat.

The game was played on the Eighth street grounds, and was played in 1 hour, 59 minutes. Sam Harvey umpired.

M. Lyons, second home; Smith, first home; O'Brien, outside home; M. J. Lyons, inside home.

Referee—N. Dunn (Olympic Club); Judges—G. Mowatt and C. H. Minto; Timekeepers—F. E. Lynch and A. Taylor.

MASSAGE FOR THEIR THOUGHT TANKS

A Gentle Rapping and Tapping, Pulling and Strengthening of the Convolutions of Heitmuller's Brain Might Help That Athlete--Breezy Persiflage and Chit-Chat.

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

Heine Heitmuller, the Commuter's right fielder, is physically an able-bodied, handsome, well-fed, strong, sound-limbed, fast-footed young man. Physically and mechanically, there is little fault to find with this amiable chap, who as he holds above possesses many of the attributes of a good ball player. It is not, however, by any means certain, that a little cerebral celerity, a trifle of hard and quick thinking, something of which he is badly in need would not help hand him some fine considerably.

Not by any means, Heitmuller is deemed mentally alert or vigorous. Withal Heitmuller is a sensible young fellow, a lad who has a keen appreciation of the current value of a dollar and how to save it. Some how or other commercial and financial sense seem antipodal to sporting excellence. It was as though the twin were incongruous and refuse to mix.

Not by any means, Heitmuller is your dapper-headed accountant. In any event, this well behaved, God-fearing, liquor-dodging young mechanic of Van Halten is far from being famous for mental brilliancy on the field of baseball. Artists are never commercialists or Puritans, and the writer holds great ball players to be physical artists of no mean estate.

Thinking it over, it strikes the writer that Mr. Heitmuller is badly in need of a massage of the skull—a pulling and tapping, a pulling and strengthening of the cerebral convolutions, which would result in greater fluency and fluidity of fancy, a faster and fairer, a rapid and smoother flow of thought, which would enable big Heine to play somewhat of a baseball inside of his head as well as a little outside of his head.

Like Kipling's gun bullocks, Heitmuller plays well enough the kind of ball he can see in front of him. He plays not altogether a bad sort of mechanical baseball.

If Heitmuller were a decrepit old man, palsied of hand, rheumatic of limb, senile of brain, creaky of joint or dyspeptic, we could in a measure understand the unusually lethargic processes of his brain. But he is none of these, and no artist can do more justice to a Porterhouse, or cavort through a maze of fried onions quicker than Heine.

Any ill omened mutt can catch a ball when it is hit straight at him, but the ball when he has three balls on the pitcher and knows the next must be straight over. But it requires mental agitation and cerebral activity to vie with well trained, athletic ball players and outfit them.

In all Heitmuller is well behaved, popular, likeable enough sort of fellow, sound in commercial sense and high priced on the hoof, but that his mental apparatus needs some brisk stirring up, or that his system needs a sort of brain anti-fat is quite undeniable.

So we hope that Manager Van Halten will compound some sort of brain tonic and have some strong limbed masseur knead it into the brains of Mr. Heitmuller, though he seemingly possesses two thicknesses of skull. If he finds it impossible to penetrate the caput of Mr. Heitmuller, let him take him to a veterinary surgeon and have him fired for ring bone of the intellectual apparatus or ossification of the cerebral processes. Something, anything, everything to cure a bad and acute case of bone headedness.

Bill Devereaux was up on his toes yesterday, and made a couple of beauty plays in the morning that were worth the price of admission. In the fourth inning Puerly Casey—some name—rapped one right near the fence back of Ellis's territory. Bill went after it with the scent of a red bird dog, distinguished himself by a rippling liner off the bat of Moore, which many third basemen would have doffed their cap to, and let roll merrily on its way.

Our Cast-off Bassey played a star role in the morning game. The diminutive spaghettil destroyer, who looks like a torpedo boat and plays like a storm petrel, rapped out two doubles and a single and walked once. Besides he scored a run and had four put-outs. Not altogether a bad day for main front from St. Loole.

George Haley is showing a quantity and quality of courage, which would do grace to a stole. This boy should be occupying a cot in some hospital instead of playing ball, but he gamely and grittily sticks to his task. Haley is suffering from two severe Charley horses, and even the simple operation of walking gives to him excruciating pain. Yet this game lad has not uttered a whimper. For courage Haley on his present show of it can be likened to the Spartan lad, who while a forlorned his very vitals gamely with the pressing of that undesirable beast to his very bosom.

When it comes to neat throwing to first base, Truck Egan can make most of the shortstops in this league look like fat pie women.

Gentlemen, who are aspiring base runners, had better consult their better judgments and higher lights before talking liberties with Jack Bliss. That gentleman is throwing perfectly to bases these days. When Carson tried to pifer second in the second inning Bliss was on the job, and he threw that gentleman out so far that it was a shame. Bliss zips them down to second straight as a string, and it would certainly take a fast bunch of sprinters to negotiate many bases on such perfect throwing.

Willie Devereaux amused the "Bugs" and Beauts by carrying a dipper of ball player's medicine—water, out to Calif when that gentleman seemed to be in distress. Just to show Calif that the water was not poisoned Bill slipped some of the aqua pura himself.

After Calif had walked the first three batters in the seventh inning of yesterday's game, the best that the Oakland team could do was score one run. Any kind of playing would have given Oakland the game at this stage.

Haley was a busy athlete with ten selected chances in the morning spasm.

When Bassey slid home in the opener he gathered dust and landscape on every part of his uniform, including his dry cleaned cap.

Devereaux polluted a sure hit from Moore in the second when he bounded into the air like a Teddy bear and grabbed a line in his gloved fin from the bat of Moore.

BILL SQUIRES PROFICIENT AS MASTER OF MINING ART

Great Antipodean Can Pick More Coal Than Any Other Miner in Far-Off Australia, Which Is Going Some.

By EDDIE SMITH.

It is not generally known that Squires holds records that have made him famous in Australia aside from his fighting ability.

Such is the case, however.

Bill is one of the greatest coal cutters (what ever that may be) in the Australian coal mines.

Squires also carries with him, letters of introduction to some of the big coal barons of America. It appears that an American invention built to cut coal with the aid of compressed air was brought to Australia and exhibited to the mine owners. Squires doubted that the machine was capable of doing the work claimed and offered to compete against it in a coal cutting contest. The contest was arranged, and Squires beat the machine, beating away at the hard rock. It is this continual heavy pressure behind the short strokes that makes the Australian's driving power of such character that it is hard to imagine that a human being could withstand them when they land solidly.

The fact that Squires has a record for coal cutting would also make it appear that he is also a staying quality, this being one of the things that the students of form could not set on when sizing up the Antipodean.

If Squires has the staying power to go through a coal cutting contest, which I should judge is something after the fashion of a rock drilling contest, such as was held in the mining districts, he certainly must have great staying power, for if there is any one thing that requires strength and grit it is a rock drilling contest.

Yesterday being Sunday, Squires laid off from work and visited the arena. He expressed the opinion that he thought the arena the best he had ever seen and said that he had fought so often in the open that the light or climate would be a benefit to him in the event of a fight.

Some of Squires' fights have been fought on the grass and the one with Williams was fought in a driving rain.

Jeffries arrived this morning and will visit the camp of Burns this afternoon. Tomorrow he will go to San Rafael and meet the Australian and explain to him the rules under which the men are to fight. It will take little or no explaining to the Antipodean as the articles call for the men to fight straight, and this is the Australian's way method.

In a fight with a no hitting in the clinches and breakaways clause in the articles the Australian would have little chance to win.

With the attack of one of the morning papers of San Francisco on the Burns-Squires fight is of such character that it shows too plainly the motive of personal prejudice to do much harm to the fight. That this paper should fight Burns, Coltrane is none of the writer's business, or the business of any other person whether interested in the coming fight or not, but at this time it is bad judgment and withal very bad taste to roast a fight and intimate it might be a fake when both men are contesting for the world's championship and for honor and future money making privileges that would be hard to buy.

Every man, be he big or small, craves the thing of being the best in his chosen profession and when the two premier fighters of the world are matched and the winner is destined to be lauded as the champion fighter of the world, there is little chance to buy one of the men off. Some time ago this paper announced that it would take no sides in the war between the Britt-Nelson fight or the Burns-Squires contest but would give the news just as we found it. For this reason I wish it thoroughly understood that this paper is not taking sides with Coltrane and as far as personal feeling which exists between the promoter and members of the staff of the paper which has so unjustly roasted the coming fight we care little. The fight since arranged, has nothing to do with the minds of the fighters and the attack of the San Francisco paper is wrong and malicious.

Barbers Shave Sign Painters

The union barbers and sign painters met in a bloodless battle on the baseball diamond Sunday at Thirtieth and Adeline streets, the barbers finally winning out by the score of 3 to 2.

The game was replete with brilliant plays on both sides. Bevis, pitcher for the painters, and Frage, for the barbers, both pitched very classy ball. Mat Canwin, the pride of Franklin street, was the star fielder for the barbers. The game was played for fifty dollars a side. Kingside Kelly umpired and gave satisfaction to both sides (almost). The barbers would like to hear from any of the union baseball clubs. Address Ed Rose, The Franklin Baseball Club, Eleventh and Franklin streets, Oakland, Cal.

It was close shave, but the barbers won because they didn't believe in signs.

The painters and the barbers went out upon a strike.

The warmest bunch of strikers that ever crossed the pike.

They didn't strike for wages; it wasn't that at all.

This was a different kind of strike; they tried to strike the ball.

It was a union baseball game; they all were unionists.

The pitcher shot them over and the players shot the chutes.

I think the barbers won the game; 'twas won just by a hair;

But the painters gave them quite a brush and the game was very fair.

The pitcher threw a barber ball and tried to shave the plate.

But the painters couldn't read the signs and swung just like a gate.

And when the barbers got a hit they always cut his nose.

The painters soon were down and out; they couldn't stand the pace.

When the game was over they went out to paint the town.

They did indeed a speed bunch and did things up quite brown.

And everything but high balls that night they just let pass;

The barbers drank them to a finish, for the painters had no class.

The Union Poet.

Watch Your Thirty Feet of Bowels!

YOU have thirty feet of intestine! What makes food travel through them?

A set of Muscles that line the walls of these intestines or Bowels.

When a piece of Food rubs the walls of the intestines these Muscles tighten behind it, and thus it starts a Muscle-wave which drives it through the whole length of the Bowels.

It should take about 12 hours to do this properly, so that nutritious parts of the food may have time to be digested and absorbed.

But, if it takes twice or three times that period the food spoils in passing, and becomes as poisonous as if it had decayed before being eaten.

Now, the cause of delay (Constipation) is simply Weakness, or Laziness of the Bowel-Muscles.

Want of Exercise, Indoor Employment, weakens these Bowel-Muscles, just as it weakens Arm and Leg Muscles.

"Physic" like Salts, Calomel, Jalap, Phosphate of Soda, Mineral Waters, simply push-out the Bowels for the one occasion only.

They do not remove the Cause of Constipation.

But this is different with Cascarets.

Cascarets act on the Muscles of the Bowels and Intestines. They act just as Cold Water, or Exercise act on a Lazy man.

They act like exercise.

A Cascaret produces the same sort of Natural result that a Six Mile walk in the country would produce.

DIVORCE SUES FOR FURNITURE

Broker, Married to Younger Woman, Brings Action Against Former Wife.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Back of a suit now on trial before Justice Ford in the Supreme Court, in which it is sought to replevin household goods, is the story of how, after thirty years of married life, Mrs. Josephine Lester went to Indiana and obtained a divorce from her aged husband, William C. Lester, a member of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, who has since married a younger wife.

The suit is brought by Lester against the Columbia Storage Warehouse Company to obtain possession of furniture and other effects stored with them. His divorced wife says the stuff belongs to her and the storage company doesn't know what to do.

Mrs. Lester testified yesterday that she lived at the home of her husband, No. 232 West Fifty-second street, two months after she obtained her Indiana divorce in order to settle up her financial affairs. An agreement was reached, she said, whereby Lester paid her $45,000 in lieu of alimony, $25,000 of which was in cash and $20,000 in mortgages. Mrs. Lester declares that at that time her husband was worth $500,000 and was seventy-one years old.

On August 21, 1904, he married Miss Grace Felix, twenty-one years old. Prior to this Mrs. Lester declares her husband told her she could have the furniture in the Fifty-second street house. Accordingly she had the things moved to the Columbia Storage Warehouse. When she demanded them, however, she was informed by the company that her husband claimed the property.

Counsel for Lester put in evidence a bill of sale, showing that for $10 Mrs. Lester sold her husband all the property in the house. It is alleged by Mrs. Lester's counsel that she did not know the purport of this document when she signed it.

Streib's Work Wins the Game

SAN JOSE, July 1.—Ray Streib's work for the San Jose team here yesterday gave to that aggregation a 1 to 0 victory over the Piedmont team at Luna Park in this city. Streib hit a single through the shortstop in the third inning, stole second, took third on a passed ball, and came home when a pitch got away from the catcher again. That's all there was. The Summer Drink

Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is the ideal summer drink. Cooling, satisfying and refreshing, it adds to the enjoyment of the outdoor luncheon for it is a food as well as a drink.

Pabst brews for food qualities as well as for purity and flavor. Pabst found the only way to get all of the food-values out of the barley-grain was to follow Nature in making the malt, by growing it slowly and scientifically, and he therefore perfected the Pabst Eight-Day Malting Process. Pabst Malt is richer in nutriment than other malts.

Pabst Blue Ribbon

The Beer of Quality

is a more healthful, wholesome food than other beers. The Pabst Perfect Brewing Process blends the rich food values of Pabst Malt with the tonic properties of the choicest hops under conditions that insure positive purity, while reducing the percentage of alcohol to the minimum—less than 3 1/2%.

Pabst Blue Ribbon is the ideal family beer, because of its food values, its purity and its remarkably small amount of alcohol, making it a truly temperance drink.

When ordering beer, ask for Pabst Blue Ribbon.

Alameda to Open Grounds Sunday

ALAMEDA, July 1.—Next Sunday the new ball park in this city at Webster street will be opened. The occasion will be a gala one, there being an automobile parade before the game which will be opened by Council President Loop, who will throw the first ball over the plate. The Oakland and San Francisco teams are to play a double header.

Preceding the morning game the automobile parade will be held along the business streets and to the field. The players of the two teams will ride in coaches and members of the City Council will have automobiles take them to the stadium. The procession will be headed by a band.

The bleachers are now being erected on the field and the work will be completed by Saturday. Manager Schroeder states that the field here will be one of the best in the State, and will be marvellously fast. He has completed all arrangements for opening day.

TAFT GETTING IN TRAINING

Secretary Preparing Political Speech to Aid in Fight for Nomination

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Secretary Taft is preparing a political speech, the first he has written since he became a candidate for the presidency. He has not yet decided where it will be delivered, but the fact that he has made up his mind to discuss the issues of the day is construed by politicians to mean that Taft has at last concluded to do what his friends have all along been urging him to do—make a vigorous campaign for the nomination.

In his speeches thus far Secretary Taft has discussed the various problems of the war department. He has talked about the Philippines, Cuba, the canal and other enterprises with which he has been laboring. He has carefully avoided the more interesting topics of the railroads and tariff and corporation regulations. The promise is now made that the secretary will tackle these larger and more entertaining subjects and will make known his views on them. It is probable that the Taft platform will be announced when the secretary makes his address to the Oklahoma Republican State Convention. Mutual friends are arranging a date for this gathering.

Of course, Secretary Taft will support the Roosevelt policy. He is in such complete harmony with it that the president believes Taft is the most available candidate in the field. Consequently Taft will be expected to favor legislation for the further regulation of the railroads and perhaps laws for checking the growth of personal fortunes.

BURNING BEANS CALLS OUT FIRE DEPARTMENT

When an alarm of fire was sounded at 10:30 this forenoon from box 56, fire engines, hose carts and chemical engines with their crews hurried to the three-story apartment house at 303 San Pablo avenue, owned by Mrs. George W. McNear, in response to the alarm.

Smoke was issuing from one of the apartments in the building which is of wood, and a big blaze was feared. Chief Bail and Fire Warden McDonald flew up the stairway, accompanied by men from the chemical engine armed with apparatus warranted to "kill quick and incipient conflagration."

The gallant firemen were advised by frightened inmates of the various flats that a blaze was raging in one of the apartments which they soon found and entered. On a lighted gas stove stood a saucepan in which was a handful of beans burned to a crisp and emitting a dense smoke.

Some careless housekeeper had left the pan of beans without water in it on the gas stove and gone down town to buy a piece of pork. Hence the above result.

While the firemen were expelling this "bean fire," an alarm was turned in from fire box 12, for a blaze in a cottage owned by I. McGue at 603 Seventeenth street, where Mrs. Mary Hoffman conducts a rooming house. She had attempted to burn a quantity of refuse in a grate in the front room and the flames from the crackling chimney had attacked the adjoining woodwork near the roof. The shingles were ripped off and the fire extinguished with water from a garden hose.

HIGHWAYMEN MURDER; NO WARNING GIVEN

DALLAS, Texas, July 1.—Arthur Hodges, a clerk for the Waters-Pierce Oil company, was killed when two highwaymen in the suburbs of Fort Worth yesterday. Mrs. Mabelle Robinson, a young widow, was badly wounded in the right arm.

The couple were sitting on a grass mound of a railroad in a sparsely settled locality waiting for an electric car, when the two highwaymen approached and fired on them. Hodges' body rolled down the embankment. The highwaymen robbed the pockets of nearly $100 in money, gold watch and other effects and then hurried away. They have not been captured.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC TO ABOLISH WEST OAKLAND 'DEATH CURVE' WITH CUT-OFF

Contour map showing the changes proposed by the Southern Pacific Company on the water front, from Oakland to the shore line of Suisun, in order to carry out the plan to improve the railroad's main line.

Railroad Secures Tidewater Lands From Key Route North of the Broad-Gauge Mole for Latest Improvements Along Bay Shore Line.

WEST OAKLAND, July 1.—"Death Curve" is to be abolished. This announcement from Southern Pacific headquarters is gratifying to the residents of this end of the city. For years the main line tracks of the Southern Pacific from where they leave the mole until they reach one-third of the way to Sixteenth street station have wound a snakey course. Houses hid the trains from view until the latter was almost upon their victims. As it happened that trains often passed each other on the curve, persons would lose presence of mind and while seeking to avoid a train going east would step on the track in front of a train running westerly.

The result is that "death curve" has been noted as the scene of a large number of deaths by what complainant coroners' juries term "unavoidable accident." Probably in no other civilized country would the government so long endure such a death trap as this "death curve." But now that it is to be eliminated everybody rejoices over the prospect and past tragedies at the curve are forgotten by all except the near relatives of the victims.

WILL STRAIGHTEN KINK.

This straightening of the kink in the tracks is a step in Southern Pacific plans to improve and in some places reconstruct the main line between the mole and Suisun. The Southern Pacific company as well as for the purpose of avoiding "death curve," and to effect this double improvement, has already purchased a very large strip of land from the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose railroad company, lying north of the broad gauge Oakland mole and inside the Key Route company's bulkhead.

Negotiations for this purchase and sale have been pending between the two companies for some time and now it has been consummated. The bay shore land purchased by the Southern Pacific from the Key Route company embraces a triangular area running northward from the head of the mole as far as Dalton & Sons' foundry, and covering a site large enough to permit the construction of a new inlet and outlet to the mole. The new tracks will make a short cut-off between the Sixteenth street depot and the broad gauge pier and will do away with the serious menace of the sharp turn which for many years has borne the name of "death curve."

WORK TO BE PUSHED.

Work will be commenced almost immediately on the construction of the tracks across the newly acquired land.

Many trainloads of earth and rock will be used to build the new roadway over the tide land and the company officials are hopeful of rapidly completing the improvement.

The change will require the abandonment of the main line tracks for a considerable distance, as the new run from the main line through Cedar street turns sharply into the mole at

Seventh street. These tracks are used by all main line trains departing and arriving by way of the Sixteenth street station, as well as by many local trains each way daily from Berkeley. The change will not effect the freight service, as that is handled on tracks entering the West Oakland yards through Cedar street direct.

COUNCIL IS THE GUEST OF WESTERN PACIFIC

Matters of Interest to the City and the Company Are Gone Over—Mutual Suggestions.

The application of the representatives of the Western Pacific railroad for an extension of their Oakland water-front franchise, and the increase of the shore end of the right-of-way from 600 to 1000 feet, was yesterday considered by Mayor Mott and members of the Oakland City Council. The party of Oakland officials was taken by representatives of the Western Pacific along the bay frontage and shown the land desired by the company. When the Mayor and Common Council of Oakland granted the Western Pacific the franchise for its trestle and pier with which to increase its wharfing facilities was also examined yesterday by the Mayor and council. The Southern Pacific company will, it is said, expend $1,000,000 on new wharves.

to have the dimensions of the strip made uniform by increasing the width at the shore end 400 feet. An extension of the center line of the right-of-way to a point beyond the limit agreed upon previously is also asked. An agreement is also wanted from the Oakland City Council whereby a space 500 feet long on the north side of the wharf will remain clear so that vessels may be moored there at any time. The Oakland city fathers have been asked not to drive piles at any point in this 500 feet as contemplated. The application of the Southern Pacific Railroad company for more ground pier with which to increase its wharfing facilities was also examined yesterday by the Mayor and council. The Southern Pacific company will, it is said, expend $1,000,000 on new wharves.

OAKLAND BOY GOES TO ANNAPOLIS

Harry W. Hill, who recently received his appointment to Annapolis for this congressional district after passing the highest examination of those competing for the appointment, has been admitted to Annapolis upon passing both the scholastic and physical examinations. Six hundred took the entrance examinations, and out of that number only 134 passed, and when it came to the physical examination, only a small percentage was equal to the rigid requirements. Young Hill received 90 per cent in his examinations.

Oakland is going to have the greatest Fourth of July celebration in its history.

WEST OAKLAND, July 1.—Lawrence Baschke, a car inspector in the Southern Pacific yards, was taken into custody last night at a late hour by State Policemen Butler and Patrolmen Healy and Fenton on a charge of burglary. Baschke is said to have broken open a fruit car. He is believed to have been systematically looting cars.

The same officers arrested William Cortis in the railroad yards last night for the theft of a box of blackberries from the fruit car. He was charged with petty larceny, and today Police Judge Samuels fined him $20 or ten days in prison.

FORFEITS $25 BAIL.

Antone E. Gree, accused of the theft of some pies from a wharf at Eighth avenue, forfeited $25 bail this morning in Police Court No. 1, rather than stand trial. The pies were valued at $25 by the complaining witness.

CONTINUE MURDER CASE.

WEST OAKLAND, July 1.—Ira Plump, the negro who shot and killed Joe Wood, another negro, on Seventh street, near Wood, in the afternoon of June 22, was arraigned today before Police Judge Samuels. Plump was represented by Attorney Wicks, who asked a continuance to plead. The case went over until July 10.

Plump and Howard were plasterers, and the slaver is said to have become angry at Howard under the belief that the latter had prevented him from joining in the International Union of Plasterers.

ALLEGED MURDERER

WANTS QUICK TRIAL

Arthur C. McGill entered a plea of not guilty this morning to the charge of murdering Henry Thompson on May 12 last, when the pair engaged in an argument over the renting of a house in which they resided. FRANCIS MURPHY DIES AFTER TEDIOUS ILLNESS

Noted Temperance Advocate Survives Long Enough to Welcome One Son, Who Raced Against Death.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—Francis Murphy, the noted temperance advocate, died at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wayland Trask, in St. Andrews' place. Mr. Murphy, who was seventy-one years old, has been in failing health for some time and death was the result of numerous ills attendant upon old age.

Edward Murphy, the second son of the Blue Ribboner, arrived from Philadelphia Saturday night, whirling in a race against death across the continent, and was in time to greet his father once more and to hear the dying man's words of welcome. Three other sons, William Murphy of Williamsburg, Va., Robert Murphy of Johnston, Va., Lieutenant-Governor of Pennsylvania, and John P. Murphy of Philadelphia, arrived in Los Angeles last night. They had lost in the race where Edward had won.

For an hour preceding death Dr. J. H. Davidson had his finger on the dying man's pulse. Around the bedside were grouped Edward Murphy, Mrs. Wayland Trask, her son and daughter, and Mrs. Francis J. Holmes, and her daughter of the great lecturer.

It was Francis Murphy's wish to live one hundred years because he felt that he was helping to make heaven on earth in thousands of homes by his efforts to get men to abstain from the liquor habit.

OF IRISH BIRTH.

Francis Murphy was born in Targat, county Wexford, Ireland, April 24, 1836. He was 16 years old when he came to America and at the age of 18 was married in New York to Miss Elizabeth A. Ginn, a young woman of Scotch descent, one year his junior.

There were seven children, six of whom are living. They are Wm. J. Murphy of Wimsburg, Va.; Thomas Edwards, Overbrook, Pa.; Robert Murphy, Lieutenant-Governor of Pennsylvania; John P. Murphy of Philadelphia; Mrs. Mary Malvina Trask and Mrs. Frances Josephine Holmes, of Los Angeles.

Less than three years after the birth of her youngest daughter Mrs. Murphy died. Eighteen years ago Mr. Murphy married Mrs. Rachel J. Fisher, a temperance worker of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

BEGINS LIFE WORK.

Thirty years ago Francis Murphy took up the work of temperance reform. Personal experience convinced him that such a gospel as he later preached throughout the country was the most effective means of combating the liquor evil. He developed a latent power of oratory that proved of incalculable assistance in bringing about thousands of conversions to the cause of temperance.

His first public address was in Portland, Maine, in 1876. During his first series of temperance meetings held in Liberty Hall in Pittsburg, late in the same year, over 50,000 persons signed the pledge. Later Mr. Murphy was offered the use of the First Methodist Church, where more successful meetings were held and where he enlisted the co-operation of many influential followers.

TOURS THE WORLD.

Similar meetings were held in many large eastern cities before Mr. Murphy made scheduled tours of the United States and several parts of Europe. Accompanied by his son, Edward Murphy, he at one time made a tour of the world, everywhere meeting with signal success. Apart from his house meetings, where his hearers were often moved to the greatest emotion, Mr. Murphy carried his gospel into the saloons and the wretched homes of drunkards in many great cities of the world.

During the last six years Mr. Murphy resided in Los Angeles, keeping in close touch with temperance work abroad and holding weekly meetings in this city.

BERKELEY, July 1.—"There is one body of men in Los Angeles who will feel they have been bereaved in the death of Francis Murphy," said a newspaper writer today. "That body is the newspaper men. Every Saturday morning Francis Murphy made a personal call at all of the editorial rooms of each of the dailies there. His smile was sweet and genial, the grasp of his hand magnetic and hearty, and his earnest 'God bless you, brother' sent the recipient out on his daily round with that enthusiasm and peace of mind that made Francis Murphy welcomed and loved."

YOUTHS PLEAD GUILTY.

Arthur Price and William Burgess, two youths pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Melvin to a charge of burglary. The young men were accused of entering a flat belonging to A. L. Austin on June 14th and stealing jewelry which they pawned for $10. Sentence was waived for a week in order that the boys' records may be looked up by Probation Officer Russ, and it is possible that they will be released on probation. Their parents accompanied them in court this morning.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD.

Mrs. Ellen Denison, who with her husband, Thomas Denison, was released on bail Saturday from the city prison, where they had been placed accused of drunkenness, was found dead in a room at 811 Washington street, yesterday afternoon. Her death is supposed to have resulted from tuberculosis or gastritis. The coroner, however, will hold an inquest.
